CABINET CONFERS ON MARINE STRIKE; OUTLOOK CLOUDED

HIRING HALL ISSUE IS BAR TO PARLEY

Street Fighting at San Pedro; New York Walk-
Out Chief Claims Aid
Of Three More Unions.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Government conciliators worked determinedly today to bring about a resumption of shipping strike peace negotiations but the Federal Maritime Commission withdrew from the picture and the silence of opposing sides left the outlook uncertain.

Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady attempted further to clear up unnamed "obstacles" to a peace meeting promised for tomorrow but would not comment on the status of the conversations.

Both shipowners and strike leaders refused information on the conferees.

In Washington Secretary of Commerce Roper disclosed the strike had been discussed at today's cabinet meeting and said the situation looked "more hopeful."

Labor Secretary Perkins said, however, she had "no news" of the walk-out.

Street fighting marked the 15th day of the walkout in San Pedro, where 1,500 longshoremen staged a demonstration near a furniture store which union leaders said had been picketed for several months for operating on an "open shop" principle. Several automobiles were overturned but no one was arrested.

Joseph Curran, New York leader of a "rank-and-file" seamen's strike that spread along the Atlantic and gulf coasts, said three more unions the licensed officers, the marine firemen and the radio telegraphers, would join his group.

Roy Smith Pardoned For Williams' Killing

Governor Talmadge yesterday pardoned Roy Smith, one-time University football player, who was serving a life term for murder.

A large delegation from Winder, Smith's home, visited the executive offices in his behalf.

Smith was convicted of killing Brannon Williams in Williams' quarters over a flower store in Winder November 25, 1933.

Carlton Mobley, the Governor's executive secretary, said Talmadge acted because there was a question as to whether Smith had the shooting.

Smith played an end position at Georgia shortly before the World War.

London Paper Says Wedding Of Edward, Wallie Is 'Out'

"The Week," Privately Circulated Magazine, Sees Little Possibility That King Either Will Abdicate or Marry
Pert American; Edward Guest at Simpson Home.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The privately circulated and mimeographed magazine, The Week, concludes there is little possibility of King Edward either abdicating or marrying Mrs. Wallis Simpson, a copy of the magazine revealed today.

Under the heading, "The King and the Rumors," the magazine deals at length with high rates for insurance that Edward's coronation will take place next spring as scheduled and asserts:

"The idea behind the rate is that the king will insist on marrying Mrs. Simpson and that the opposition of the bishops (England's two archbishops) to such non-conformity and of the Conservative party generally will force him from the throne."

There has been, the magazine said, conflict in court circles between the "old guard" which resents the king's friendship and his American friend and "the newer type of courtier," who apparently thinks Mrs. Simpson is "ace high."

"In any case," The Week concludes

HOPKINS PREDICTS LESS RELIEF OAD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Harry Hopkins, Works Progress administrator, predicted today that the nation will begin the new year with 1,000,000 fewer relief cases than were on the rolls for the month of 1936.

He said that between January and August of this year the total number of families and single persons receiving local or federal relief had declined from 4,756,000 to 3,833,000.

Citing the downward trend from the peak load of 5,316,000 in January of 1935, Mr. Hopkins said in a press conference:

"There is no doubt about it but that we are over the hump. The normal increase in the relief rolls for this time of year, with winter approaching, will be counteracted by increased private employment."

Estimating monthly expenditures of the Works Progress Administration at about $160,000,000 per month, Mr. Hopkins said there would be no unexpended balance carried into the next fiscal year from the $1,425,000,000 appropriated by the last Congress.

Of the total relief load for August of this year was 417,000 less than the 4,250,000 cases in August of 1935, he said, despite the addition of 100,000 drought emergency cases this year.

Declaring that relief expenditures were falling in the same proportion as the number of cases, he said that in the month before election the administrative staff of the Works Progress Administration had been cut by 1,000 and that personnel cuts were continuing.

Of the total employed under the works program in the first of October, Hopkins said 2,515,728 were on WPA projects; 384,133 on emergency conservation work, and 508,149 in other agencies of the government.

Liberty League Activity To Go On, Shouse Says

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, president of the American Liberty League, said today leaders of the league had no intention of disbanding or restricting their activities.

Shouse said the opening of the next Congress would find the league as active as it was at the last session.

Shouse was here to attend a monthly meeting of the Liberty League election—the first meeting since the election.

The league took no active part in the campaign, but many of its leaders gave their individual support to Governor Alf M. Landon. Among these were Alfred E. Smith and John W. Davis, former Democratic candidates for president, and members of the du Pont family.

One of the first acts planned by the league in its resumption of activity, it is understood, will be the issuance of opinions by organization's lawyers' committee as to the constitutionality of several New Deal laws.

FEDERATION MAPS CONCERTED DRIVE TO COMBAT LEWIS

A. F. of L. Leader Declares Most of Members of Rebel Unions Com-munistically Controlled.

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 12.—(AP)—A concerted drive by all craft unions to combat John L. Lewis' rebel Committee for Industrial Organization was proposed today by leaders of the American Federation of Labor's building trades department.

The department's executive council further recommended to its convention that all building trades locals promptly affiliate with central bodies and state federations of labor "so as to assure concerted action."

This move in the battle between the federation's craft union leaders and the 10 Lewis unions followed a report that eight of the federation's 17 executive council members still wanted to make peace with Lewis.

Surveyed Sentiment.

Nine wanted to expel the rebels at the federation's general convention here next week, it was said in usually well-informed quarters, after a council member had made a survey of the sentiment of his fellow members.

Observers pointed out this sentiment, however, might be changed by developments before the council holds its next meeting Saturday and Sunday.

Craft union leaders continued their verbal assault on the Lewis faction at their department conventions.

J. W. Williams, president of the building trades department, said "most" members of the Lewis committee were "Communistically inclined or controlled."

"Others," he added, "are seeking

LECHE SEEKS END OF RAIL VIOLENCE

Governor Calls Officials and Strikers to Parley
After 2 More Wrecks.

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Officials of the Louisiana and Arkansas Railway and four brotherhoods were closed today with Governor Richard W. Leche, of Louisiana, in efforts to adjust labor disputes which led to a troublesome strike of several hundred transportation employees on the road.

The conference followed the derailling of two trains in north Louisiana last night. Railroad officials said the derailling was caused by pulling of spikes and tampering with a switch.

Three trains were injured in the latest series of wrecks, derailments and firing on trains which have claimed seven lives and injured a number of other persons.

Those conferring with Leche were C. P. Couch, president of the railroad; Harvey Couch, chairman of the board of directors of the railroad; O. K. Hodges, representative of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; Fred Barr, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen; W. L. Carter, of the Order of Railroad Conductors; Fred E. Nichols, Texas labor commissioner; B. W. Cason, Louisiana labor commissioner; Gascon, L. Porter, Louisiana attorney general; and George M. Wallace, executive counsel to Governor Leche.

The conferees would not discuss any plans for arbitration before going into session, but all willingly accepted the invitation to attend.

The transportation employees have been on strike since September 19, during the strike bridges have been burned and railroad crews beaten. Replacements were mobbed by both men and women strike sympathizers.

Today Kildroy P. Aldrich, chief inspector of the postoffice department, announced inspectors were investigating with a view to determining whether mail was being delayed.

DRASTIC ECONOMY DEMANDED OF CITY

Bankers Said Insistent
Upon Rigid Curtailment
Of Municipal Expenses.

Further conferences between Atlanta financial leaders and members of the incoming 1937 city council over fiscal problems facing the municipality depend on the disposition of the councilmanic group toward institution of a system of rigid economy, which will enable the city to operate within its income and to retire a portion of the $3,054,303 deficit next year, it was reported yesterday.

While Alderman I. Gloor Halter, ninth ward, who initiated a movement for a conference between the Atlanta Clearing House Association and the nominees for mayor and councilmen, shared the prize for physics with Professor V. G. Hess, of Innsbruck University, Austria.

Professor Peter Debye, of the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute for Physics, in Berlin, was granted the chemistry prize for his studies of the structure of the molecule.

Lewis Former Winner.

O'Neill, whose better known plays include "Ah, Wilderness!" "Strange Interlude" and "Mourning Becomes Electra"—became the second American to win the literature prize. Sinclair Lewis, novelist, received it in 1930.

O'Neill will be given the prizes for 1935 and 1936, totaling about $15,000, as no award was made last year in literature.

Professor Anderson and Professor Hess will be given about $20,000 each.

The Nobel Foundation's managing board, as is customary, did not cite any specific work by the winner of the literature prize.

Professor Anderson's award was granted for his discovery in 1933 of positrons—positive electrons—by the bombardment of atoms with a high voltage current.

Professor Hess' prize was for his research in cosmic radiation.

King Gustav will present the awards December 10 at a ceremony in connection with the anniversary of the Nobel peace prize.

Cobb Says: Poker Going Out of Style

By IRVIN S. COBB.
(Copyright, 1936, by North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—They say poker is dying out, its place being taken by bridge, a game with 52 cards and frequently, as between partners, with fully 52 times that many harsh words. I look next for a revival of tilt-a-toe. You can quarrel over that, too.

And out on the duke ranches old cowhands, who once were almost rough with heifers and calves, are being schooled in discreet love-making and other romantic exercises to qualify them for celebrating big game to debutantes next winter.

Gen. Denhardt Held On Murder Charge

NEW CASTLE, Ky., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Sheriff Evan Harrod arrested Brigadier General Henry H. Denhardt, 60, today on a warrant charging him with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Mrs. Vera Garr Taylor, 40, comely LaGrange widow. The warrant was sworn to by Mrs. Taylor's brother, E. S. Garr, of LaGrange.

General Denhardt, who was arrested after he declined on advice of counsel to testify at an inquest this afternoon into the death of Mrs. Taylor, was released under $25,000 bond for an examining trial November 20 before County Judge A. S. Morgan. Dr. Arthur T. McCormack, head of the Kentucky Board of Health, provided the bond.

NOBEL PRIZE WON BY EUGENE O'NEILL

Professor Carl D. Anderson, California, Is Winner of Physics Award.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Eugene O'Neill, noted American dramatist, was awarded the Nobel prize in literature today.

Professor Carl David Anderson, of the California Institute of Technology, shared the prize for physics with Professor V. G. Hess, of Innsbruck University, Austria.

AUSTRIA, HUNGARY TO SEEK TO REARM

Nations Proclaim Right To War Materials; Are Backed by Italy in Move.

VIENNA, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The right of Austria and Hungary to rearm was proclaimed tonight in an official communique issued by the foreign ministers of Italy, Austria and Hungary.

(Little Entente nations—Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Yugoslavia—have repeatedly opposed Austro-Hungarian rearmament, basing their protests on the post-war treaty of Versailles which forbade the two countries to arm.)

The communique said also Italian Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano disclosed that Premier Mussolini and Reichsfuehrer Hitler saw eye to eye on affairs in southeastern Europe.

In hailing the entry of Austria and Hungary into the arms-bristling bivouacs of Europe, the communique declared their right to rearm was the "principle" objective of the new tripartite accord.

Italy's support of the project was envisioned by observers as likely to override any serious protests from Little Entente powers.

The communique also announced that Austria and Hungary will be given special privileges in the development of Ethiopia, where Italian sovereignty was formally recognized by the two nations last night.

The official statement, signalling the conclusion of the tripartite talks, did not disclose further details of the negotiations. Informal sources, however, declared the three countries—already bound together by economic and financial pacts—had agreed on a united front regarding Bolshevism, Spanish Socialism and the League of Nations.

A foreign official spokesman said the Italo-Austro-Hungarian accord was linked with a possible bid to Germany to join in a four-power bloc.

Diplomatic quarters also heard that recognition of the insurgent (Fascist) government in Spain, in the event the Italian government collapsed, was among the points of agreement reached in the new accord.

Meanwhile, Austrian monarchist sympathizers entertained soaring hopes of the early restoration of Archduke Otto to the long-vacant throne of the Hapsburgs.

They pointed out that last night's dinner at the ancient Schoenbrunn palace of the Hapsburgs, given in honor of the visiting diplomats, had a distinctly monarchist spirit.

Faded red uniforms which had been in storage since 1918 were worn by the palace servants, a number of gold-rings attended, and the golden imperial dinner service gleamed on the banquet table in the historic hall of mirrors for the first time since the World War.

12 Passengers Injured As Europa Fights Gale

CHERBOURG, France, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Twelve passengers on the liner Europa were injured when the ship was battered by a gale and pitched in the Atlantic storm November 10, it was disclosed when the vessel docked today.

The same storm took the life of Frank Giffin, of Pawtucket, R. I., who was fatally injured on board the liner Queen Mary which docked at Southampton Wednesday.

REBEL SHELLS RIP INTO HEART OF CITY

Militia Holds Firm to Line Around Capital,
Repulsing Every Effort to Cross Manzanares.

By The Associated Press.
MADRID, Nov. 12.—Three Fascist bombers and six pursuit planes sprayed machine gun bullets on government lines from the Toledo bridge to University City at dusk after the government announced recapture of Getafe, eight miles to the south.

In the first air raid on Madrid in two days, Franco's planes suddenly darted through low cloud banks, power dived, and raked the entire stretch of government barricades, trenches and artillery batteries with a hail of lead.

Twelve government scout planes took the air against the attackers and officials said they shot down two of the insurgent bombers.

Rebel Planes Flew.

The Fascist warplanes fled in a northerly direction. The city was entirely ignorant of the raid because the great moaning sirens were not sounded.

Getafe was occupied by only a handful of Fascist troops, the war ministry said, and was easily captured after a brief skirmish.

A quantity of arms and ammunition was seized, it was said.

Insurgent shells were aimed at government batteries in Madrid, but several ripped into the heart of the city. An unestimated number of persons was injured when several shells crashed through house-tops.

Decimated militia held their lines around Madrid on the seventh day of the bloody battle for possession of the capital.

Optimism Mounts.

The optimism of Madrid officials mounted hourly as their fighting men hurled back each successive attack by the foe seeking to enter Madrid by crossing the Manzanares river.

A foreign legion of some 1,000 anti-Fascist volunteers fought side by side with the regulars, and the reinforcements would reach the capital shortly to join the 4,000 of their comrades who marched into Madrid the day before.

The government forces increased pressure on the insurgent forces

Questions on Social Security Act Answered by Constitution Today

Following receipt of a number of queries on the newly adopted Social Security Act, The Constitution, through its Washington Bureau, starts a new service today and will answer any question, providing it has been passed upon, on the new law.

Address your letter, inclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope, to The Social Security Act Editor, The Constitution. If received before 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the letter will be forwarded to The Constitution's Washington Bureau the same day. Your answer will be forwarded immediately.

Some Early Queries:

Q. I am an employer of 16 men in a machine shop. How do I figure the total taxes I have to pay to the government under the social security law, as an employer? N. C. B.

A. Under the unemployment section of the law, if these men are employed for as much as each of 20 days in 20 different weeks in a calendar year, you must pay for each calendar year a federal tax equal to the following percentages of the total wages paid: For the year 1936, 1 per cent; 1937, 2 per cent; 1938 and thereafter each year, 3 per cent. Under the old-age retirement section of the act you pay 1 per cent tax on wages (up to $3,000 a calendar year) for the years 1937, 1938 and 1939; 1 1/2 per cent on wages paid in 1940, 1941 and 1942; 2 per cent on wages paid in 1946, 1947 and 1948, and 3 per cent on wages paid in 1949 and thereafter.

Q. When was the social security law passed and what was it designed to do? W. T. J.

A. It was approved by the President August 14, 1935, and provides, among other things, for a system of old-age retirement benefits, and a system of taxation to induce states to enact unemployment insurance laws.

Q. Will the federal government, under the social security act, pay old-age benefits and unemployment insurance to workers? A. T. K.

A. Old-age benefits are to be paid by the federal government. But unemployment insurance benefits are not. Each state which has an unemployment insurance law, or which may enact one that is approved by the Federal Social Security Board, will pay unemployment insurance benefits to eligible persons in that state; if there is no state unemployment insurance law, there will be no unemployment insurance benefits.

Q. I am a domestic servant in a house where four servants are employed. Will I get old-age pensions and unemployment insurance under the social security law? What persons are included in the benefits of the law? E. J.

A. No. Domestic servants, agricultural labor, seamen on vessels documented under the laws of the United States or any foreign country, casual labor not in the regular course of the employer's trade or business, and city, county, state and federal government employees and employees of charitable, philanthropic and similar organizations not conducted for profit are excluded from the benefits of the act.

Q. When do old-age retirement benefits begin? Curious.

A. January 1, 1942, for persons then qualified by the Atlanta League. Other addresses will be made by Dr. Arthur immediately. If thought sufficiently important to readers in general the question and answer will be printed in the "ABC of Social Security Act" column in The Constitution with only your initials used.

VATICAN ADMITS POPE HAS DROPSY

Pontiff Continues Audiences,
But Is Carried to Most Official Functions.

(Copyright, 1936, by United Press.)
VATICAN CITY, Nov. 12.—(UP)—
Members of the papal household informed the United Press tonight that his holiness, Pope Pius XI, is suffering from Bright's disease (dropsy).
The pontiff's face, they added, as well as his legs, are puffed and swollen.

Intimates no longer conceal their anxiety about his health. However, the 73-year-old spiritual ruler of the Catholic church refuses to spare his strength and is continuing his daily routine of audiences, even though he is carried to most of them.
Vatican officials have instructed the vatican police to be prepared to close all gates to the papal palace on a given signal and to refuse either entry or exit to everyone until further orders.
It is reported that the pope refuses a thorough physical examination.
Significantly, the church authorities have ordered all newspapermen accredited to the vatican to cease reporting how the pope arrives at his various daily audiences. Usually now he is carried to the papal throne.

FATAL SHOT IS ACCIDENT.
JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Nov. 12.—

BACKS PHONE COMPANY.
MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Right of a telephone company to disconnect equipment it reasonably believes will be used for gambling purposes was upheld today by Circuit Judge Paul
D. Barnes in an order without opinion.

HIRSCH, O'BRIAN SPEAK FOR BOTTLERS TODAY TO MEET WEDNESDAY

Georgia Group to Conclude
Two-Day Session This Afternoon.

Harold Hirsch, attorney, and Robert O'Brien, of Sioux City, Iowa, will be the principal speakers today before members of the Georgia Bottlers' Association meeting here in a two-day convention session at the Piedmont hotel.

They will speak on the program starting at 10:30 o'clock this morning. The session will be called to order by President Harry L. Mott, of Columbus. Included on the morning program is report of committees, election of officers and adjournment.

Members will be guests of the East Lake Country Club at 2 o'clock today and, weather permitting, the president announced, a golf tournament will be held.

Thursday's program was concluded last night with a banquet and dance on the Ansley hotel roof garden. Earlier in the day, following a meeting of the executive board and a fellowship luncheon, delegates adjourned to the convention hall, where they were welcomed by Eugene Harrington, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and heard the annual address of President Mott.

Other speakers included John Riley, of the American Bottlers of Carbonated Beverages, who discussed the national association; J. P. Roddy Jr., of Knoxville; John Edmundson, Atlanta, and Fred Bowman, of Chapel Hill, N. C., who discussed the respective tax situations in Georgia, Tennessee and North Carolina.

Senator Walter P. George made the principal address and spoke to the bottlers on "Federal Taxes," citing the new surtax on the undistributed earnings of corporations as an example but stated he is convinced congress will make no important change in the law at the forthcoming session.

Harrison will leave tomorrow for Tampa to attend the national convention of the American Federation of Labor beginning next week.

Notables Invited to Session At Lighthouse; McGrath Will Preside.

Fifth district chapter of the Georgia Association of Workers for the Blind will hold its semi-annual meeting at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday at the Victor Kriegshaber Memorial Lighthouse, it was announced yesterday.

J. P. McGrath will preside and several prominent Georgians have been invited to attend. Members of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, Governor-elect E. D. Rivers, Mayor-elect William B. Hartsfield are among those who have been invited.

Consideration of the offer of property of the Hebrew Orphans' Home as a means of broadening activities for the blind will be taken at the meeting, Mr. McGrath said.

Numerous John Does and Mary Rites in the city presumably are quaking in their boots as the result of a $75,000 damage suit filed by Mattilda Regli, of Napa, Cal., charging that one of them last Christmas allowed grease to drip from roast turkeys onto the sidewalk causing her to slip and break her leg. ## MY COOKERY

By MISS RUTH CHAMBERS.

Ham and pineapple have been appearing together for so long that they have become wedded as naturally as salt and pepper or sugar and cream. But there's no reason why ham shouldn't have some new associates.

If for no other reason than for variety, try this ham and orange combination. Bake the ham until almost tender. Of course you all remember that for best results, the thick slice of ham is placed in a baking dish in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) to bake for 30 minutes or until tender. Remove from the oven, pour off the fat, and spread with an orange and sugar mixture, made in the proportion of 1 cup orange juice and 1 cup brown sugar. Return to the oven for the last minute browning. Garnish with orange slices or orange sections and serve.

comes honey any time, any place, any way, here's a chance to introduce honey with ham. When the ham is almost tender, remove it from the oven, rub with very fine bread crumbs and pour a mixture of 1 cup warm honey and 1 cup chopped maraschino cherries over it.

Bananas come into their own in this spiced ham that ever so good and conveniently takes only half an hour to prepare.

Spiced Ham with Bananas.
One slice ham, 2 teaspoons mustard, 5 tablespoons brown sugar, 1-4 cup water, 2 tablespoons vinegar or the juice of 1-2 lemon, 2 bananas.

Put ham in baking dish, cover with mustard and 3 tablespoons brown sugar, surround with water and vinegar and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., for 30 minutes. Cover with halved bananas, sprinkle with remaining brown sugar and bake 15 minutes longer, basting frequently.

Ham with Grape Jelly.
If you are partial to grape jelly, combine it with baked ham for a change. Before placing the ham in a moderate oven, spread it generously with brown sugar and insert whole cloves about 1 inch apart. When it has baked until almost tender, remove from the oven, spread thickly with tart grape jelly and bake until it is well glazed.

Sauces for Ham.
Perhaps, though, you'd like to serve a sauce with the ham rather than on the ham.

Grapefruit sauce is made by cooking together, until thickened, 1 tablespoon cornstarch mixed with cold water and 3-4 cup hot water. When thick add 1 cup undiluted grapefruit juice and the juice of a small lemon. Serve hot with the fresh baked ham.

When the ham is baked in sweet cider and at intervals basted with it, the finished flavor is delicious. When the meat is done, a sauce may be made by thickening the cider with flour.

For you who have a weakness for raisins with ham, here's a baked ham with apples and raisins you're sure to like.

Baked Ham with Apples and Raisins.
Two slices ham, 1-3 cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, milk, raisins and apples.

Mix the sugar and flour together and add a little milk to moisten; rub this mixture all over both sides of the ham. Place in a baking dish, cover with the other slice of ham. Place remaining apple rings around the ham in the pan or on the pyrex platter. Fill the center of each ring with raisins. Return to the oven and continue to bake until the apples are done. While this is cooking, take the sauce which was left in the first baking dish, thicken it and serve with the ham.

TAXICAB PASSENGER INJURED IN ACCIDENT
A passenger in a taxicab was injured yesterday morning when he was thrown from the vehicle as it collided with another machine at Fair and Fraser streets.

The injured passenger, Arthur M. Pope, 41, of 409 Broyles street, S. E., suffered a possible fractured skull. He was admitted to Grady hospital.

According to police reports, the crash occurred when the cab, driven by W. D. Carwell, 22, of 417 Calhoun street, was in collision with a car driven by Olin Benton, 25, of 119 Bass street.

NEGRO YOUTH ON TRIAL IN MURDER CASE HERE

A 14-year-old negro boy, Charles Mills, was charged in Fulton Superior Court yesterday with the knife slaying of 25-year-old white youth, at 445 Capitol Avenue.

The state and the defense rested their cases late yesterday afternoon and the opening defense argument was made before Judge James C. Davis, recessed court until 9 o'clock this morning.

Judge Davis, as the trial began yesterday morning, overruled petition of Defense Attorney William Schley Howard to transfer the case to juvenile court because of the defendant's age, and sustained the contention of Assistant Solicitor E. E. Andrews that there is no provision for punishment of murder in juvenile court.

THREE MEALS A DAY

HOME TESTED RECIPES

BISCUIT COMBINATIONS.

We Americans live in high gear. As we go about our daily tasks, our bodies are kept at peak tension most of the time. This fact requires us to furnish ourselves with foods which will maintain energy throughout the strenuous hours of the day.

Whether the fresh-made biscuit dough is used to top a pot pie or left-over crumbs are made the base of a delicious pudding, biscuit combinations provide an inexpensive source of energy. The following standard recipes will be found to give excellent results when used as the basis of chicken shortcake, brown betty or biscuit pudding.

Standard Sour Milk Biscuits.
Two cups flour, 1-2 teaspoon soda, 2-3 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons shortening, buttermilk to make soft dough (approximately 3-4 cups).

Sift flour, measure; sift flour, salt and salt together. Add the shortening. Cut or rub it into the flour; add milk to make a soft dough; knead lightly, roll 1-2 inch thick, cut, and bake in a hot oven (400-450 degrees F.) 8-10 minutes. Do not grease the pan or sheet upon which the biscuits are to be baked.

Standard Sweet Milk Biscuits.
Two cups flour, 3-4 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 2 tablespoons shortening, whole sweet milk to make soft dough (approximately 2-3 cups).

Sift flour, measure; sift flour, salt and baking powder together; add shortening, and cut or rub it into the flour; add milk to make a soft dough; knead lightly. Roll 1-2 inch thick, cut, and bake in hot oven (400-450 degrees F.) 8 to 10 minutes.

Individual Chicken Shortcake.
One standard biscuit recipe, rolled very thin; cut into uniform rounds (small saucer or large cookie cutter may be used). Prick with fork. Bake very crisp at 400-425 degrees F.

Chicken Mixture.
Three cups chicken, cooked and diced, 1 onion, sliced very fine; 1 cup green pepper, diced; 1 cup chicken stock; 1 cup milk; 2 tablespoons butter; 3 tablespoons flour for thickening; 2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced; salt, pepper.

Place butter in kettle, add onion and green pepper. Cook until both are transparent, stirring to avoid scorching. Add chicken, seasonings, stock and milk, to which the flour for thickening has been added. Allow the mixture to simmer until it is the right consistency to serve. Arrange biscuits in layers with servings of chicken between. Garnish with hard-cooked eggs, parsley and dash of paprika. Yields six servings.

Brown Betty.

One cup sugar (preferably brown), 1 cup water, 1 lemon, juice and grated peel, 1-2 cup butter, 3 tart apples—peel and dice; 3 cups biscuit crumbs (toast and roll before measuring), 1 glass (6 oz.) grape or any tart jelly. Combine first four ingredients in saucepan, cook to a heavy syrup. Place crumbs and apples in heavily buttered casserole. Arrange in alternate layers, every third layer having a thin spread of jelly. Pour the syrup over the mixture as you proceed. Allow crumbs for the top. Cover and bake 45 minutes in moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Remove cover for last 12-15 minutes to allow for browning. Serve with hard sauce. Yields 8 servings.

Biscuit Pudding.
Three cups stale biscuit crumbs, 1-4 cup sugar, 3 egg yolks, well beaten; 1-2 cup butter, 2 cups milk, 3 egg whites beaten stiff, but not dry. 1 glass (6 oz.) tart jelly, marmalade or jam.

Prepare crumbs, measure; add milk. Allow to set while mixing other ingredients. Cream butter and sugar, add yolks. Mix. Blend this with crumb and milk mixture into a smooth batter. Fold in whites of eggs carefully. Pour half the batter into a buttered casserole. Dot the surface with spoonfuls of jelly. Pour in remainder of batter. Bake 30 minutes in moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Serve hot with hard sauce. Yields 8 servings.

*One square unsweetened chocolate may be added instead of the jelly. Also, in such case, add 1-4 cup sugar to above recipe. One-half cup pecans may be added to original recipe.

How many days 'til Christmas? The answer to that question may be easy, but can you tell me this—what time of year is it now? Give up? I'll tell you, it's cookie time. The weeks preceding Christmas have always been cookie time, and the modern home-maker still goes by this same pre-Christmas timepiece. The Christmas cookie idea is as much a part of Christmas as are, mistletoe, new sleds and Santa Claus. The youngsters and oldsters, too, like to feel that they can look to the cookie jar as the place where in-between-meal hunger pangs can be luxuriously quieted. In giving your favorite holiday cookie recipes their usual work-out, why not try some of the following recipes?

Hickory Nut Cookies.

One-third cup shortening, 1 cup brown sugar, 2 eggs, 2 cups flour, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 cup milk, 1 cup hickory nut meats, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Cream the sugar and shortening together. Add the unbeaten eggs one at a time, beating until thoroughly blended. Add the baking powder and salt to the flour and sift together. Add alternately with the milk to the creamed mixture. Add the vanilla and nuts last. Drop by the teaspoonful on a greased baking sheet allowing two inches for spreading. Bake in a moderate oven (325-350 degrees F.) 20 minutes. Other nuts may be substituted for hickory nuts.

'BRIBE' RETURN ASKED FOLLOWING ACQUITTAL

Alleged Lottery Operator Found Not Guilty of Bribeing County Officers.

Cecil Johnson, alleged lottery operator, was cleared of a charge of attempted bribery of two county policemen yesterday in Fulton criminal court, but his acquittal raised a puzzling mystery for court officials, that of to whom does the alleged bribe of $50 belong?

County Policeman Curtis Neal testified he found the $50 bill in his pocket after talking with Johnson in the basement of the courthouse last May 19, and Officer W. L. Duncan swore he saw Johnson thrust his hand in Neal's coat pocket after he had told officers "I want to make you a present." When the jury brought in its verdict of "not guilty," Joe Ewing, lawyer, who assisted Attorney Reuben Arnold in the defense, asked Solicitor John McClelland, who prosecuted, to turn the $50 over to him, but the solicitor refused. "I'll have to study this over before deciding what to do," he said.

The defense neither admitted nor denied the alleged bribe. The officers said it was offered them after they had gone to Clayton county to follow a suspicious car. They testified Johnson asked them what they were doing in Clayton and said, "I believe you found what you were looking for." Solicitor McClelland attempted to show that lottery companies operate in Fulton county and have places for checking up in adjoining counties. Johnson had been convicted of a lottery violation.

TRAINING IN FIRST AID URGED FOR ALL POLICE

Captain Malcom Wants All Officers Qualified To Treat Injuries.

Every policeman a first-aid man is the aim of Captain Jack Malcom, head of the traffic bureau, he revealed yesterday, as a prelude to the arrival here January 1 of Lieutenant F. M. Kreml, originator of the famous "Evanston Plan" of accident prevention.

Captain Malcom said he hopes by the time Lieutenant Kreml arrives here at least 50 members of the police department will be qualified to handle injured persons and thus be eligible for membership in the new accident prevention bureau, which will be organized as a separate unit.

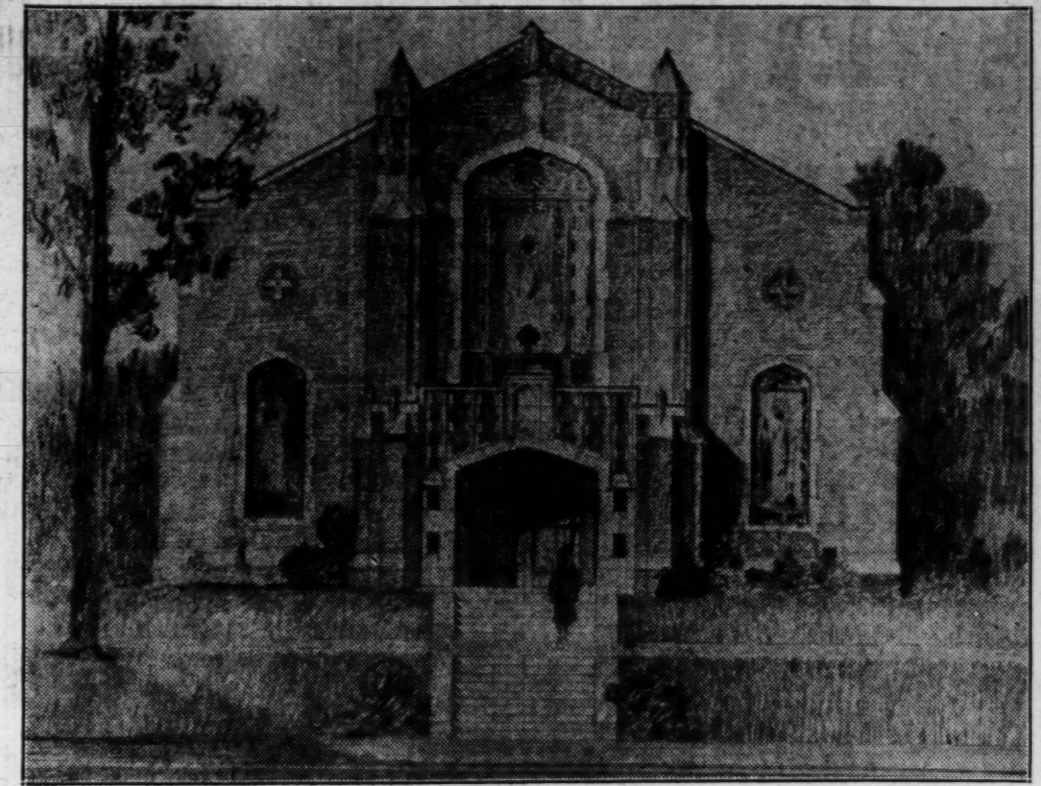

However, Captain Malcom said, instead of limiting first-aid knowledge to just the 24 men who will be detailed to regular duty with the new bureau, he hopes every member of the department will attend classes to learn first-aid.

In this connection, Captain Malcom said a member of the International Association of Chiefs of Police will come to this city late this month to aid in selecting the men who will be chosen as members of the new unit.

The accident prevention unit will be comprised of 24 men, assigned to four radio cars. Two cars will patrol the North Side section and two will patrol the South Side. In addition to first aid, the men will be instructed in photography and other means of scientific crime detection, Captain Malcom said.

America's principal sugar cane industry is beginning the second century of its existence. It was started on the island of Kololo, in the territory of Hawaii, in 1855.

Lutheran Church of the Redeemer Begins New Edifice

Adding another beautiful place of worship to Atlanta's increasing number of church show places, the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer has started construction of the first unit at Peachtree and Fourth streets of the new church plant. Shown above is an architect's drawing of the entrance to the first chapel unit.

Construction Begun on New Plant Of Lutheran Church of Redeemer

Another of Atlanta's prominent churches yesterday announced the beginning of construction of a new place of worship, adding to the list of church showplaces of the city.

The Lutheran Church of the Redeemer in a few months will be housed in the first unit of a proposed extensive church plant at the corner of Peachtree and Fourth streets. Work on the initial unit, a complete chapel which later will be converted into other church uses, was begun Tuesday, the birthday anniversary of Martin Luther.

The new building was planned by E. B. Chaplin, architect, and will be a permanent brick structure, 61 by 95 feet in dimension, in the general Gothic style of architecture. The unit will serve as a church auditorium at present, but later will become the main auditorium of an educational building, the plan being to erect the main cathedral directly on the corner of the site.

Organized in 1893, the Church of the Redeemer was organized January 22, 1893. In August, 1905, the present church building was completed at Trinity avenue and Capitol place. Since that time, the congregation has grown rapidly and during the past several years the need for a new building on a new site has become increasingly necessary.

Union of Three Branches Is Approved at Conference in Session Here.

Unification of the three branches of the Methodist church was voted at the 107th annual session of the Georgia church conference yesterday, the Rev. Roy J. Donaldson, conference reporter, announced.

The session, being held at 292 Moreland avenue, N. E., at the Century Methodist Protestant church, will continue today with other business routine on the program.

The Rev. Walter M. Hutson, Atlanta, was elected president of the state body and the Rev. O. B. Talley, Atlanta, was named secretary of the conference.

The vote for unification of the three branches of the church would bring together the Methodist Protestant church, the Methodist Episcopal, South, and the Methodist Episcopal, North, into one group.

Dr. James Straugh, representative of the Protestant branch, was principal speaker at the meeting. The Rev. W. T. Hume, representative of the Southern church and the Rev. E. J. Hammond spoke in behalf of the Northern church.

Sanitation Costs Detailed by Cates

City Spent $1.29 Per Capita On Department During 1934.

Atlanta expended $368,488.87 or $1.29 per capita as the entire cost of operation of the sanitary department in 1934, H. J. Cates, superintendent, said yesterday.

He listed costs as follows: Garbage collection, $183,463.64, or .64 per capita; street cleaning, $115,455.63, or .40 per capita; incineration, $40,670.75, or .17 per capita. Total cost for these services, exclusive of administration, smoke inspection and sewer flushing, was $348,786.03, or $1.21 per capita.

church, the Methodist Episcopal, South, and the Methodist Episcopal, North, into one group.

Dr. James Straugh, representative of the Protestant branch, was principal speaker at the meeting. The Rev. W. T. Hume, representative of the Southern church and the Rev. E. J. Hammond spoke in behalf of the Northern church.

MOTOR CLUB OPPOSES HAPHAZARD CHANGES

Traffic Control System Urged
Before Street Projects Are Started.

Adoption and installation of the best and most modern system of traffic control and regulation possible, the Evanston system for instance, is urged by the Atlanta Motor Club in a recent editorial appearing in its publication, "Behind the Wheel."

The editorial stresses the importance of adoption of such a system before the city council goes ahead with projects designed to relieve rush-hour and other congested traffic conditions. Proposed measures are the widening of Whitehall street from Forsyth to Stewart avenue, extension of Alabama street viaduct to Haynes street widening Haynes street, and construction of an underpass at North avenue, and of an A. B. C. underpass at North avenue and Marietta street.

Why Put Up With Pimples, Wrinkles and a Sallow Skin?

So many women throw their charm and beauty away—look years older than they are—because they neglect common constipation. They forget that badly balanced meals, over a period of years, can change how they look and feel.

Often their menus lack the "bulk" needed for regular habits. Then constipation, the beauty-killer, sets in. Other effects may be headaches, listlessness, sleeplessness.

Get "bulk" back into your meals with a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It absorbs moisture within the body, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as a cereal or in cooked dishes. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

CAB FIRM INCREASES PROPOSED SAVINGS

$44,453 Cut Offered in Revised Schedule to Ordinance Committee.

Black and White Cab Company representatives yesterday proposed a new rate schedule to the ordinance committee which they claimed would save patrons $44,453.16 a year based on last year's business. The committee took the proposal under advisement.

Under the plan 67.86 per cent of the cab patrons would pay $56.163.50 less for the same services as at present, and 32.14 per cent would pay $11.710.40 more.

Alderman Frank H. Reynolds presented at council's last session a proposed revision which would have saved riders about $25,000. The new schedule was first offered yesterday.

Councilman G. Dan Bridges objected to the increase of five cents in several brackets, asserting that they affect local citizens more than the reduction for the short and extremely long trips do.

Committee members also withheld action on a proposal by Alderman John Scott to force operators of coal yards to permit permits from the mayor and council before establishing a new business.

Councilman J. Allen Couch, chair-

JAMES T. ATHERTON, JASPER PIONEER, DIES

JASPER, Ga., Nov. 12.—James T. Atherton, pioneer citizen of this community and former state legislator, died here tonight, at the age of 78.

He came to Pickens county as a boy, and was virtually a life-long resident of Jasper. He was identified with the textile industry, and served two terms in the state legislature. He also served a number of terms as clerk of the county court.

He was a member of the Methodist church for 50 years. Surviving are his wife; three sons, Dr. H. J. Atherton, of Jasper; Dr. L. H. Atherton, of Marietta; and G. M. Atherton, of Nelson, and three daughters, Miss Lucy Atherton, of Atlanta; Mrs. J. D. Howell, and Mrs. A. W. Lawson, both of Jasper.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at the Jasper Methodist church.

Gas, Gas All the Time, Can't Eat or Sleep

"The gas on my stomach was so bad I could not eat or sleep. Even my heart seemed to hurt. A friend suggested Adierika. The first dose I took brought me relief. Now I eat as I wish, sleep fine and never feel better."

—Mrs. J. A. Filler.

Adierika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels while ordinary laxatives act on the lower bowel only. Adierika gives your system a thorough cleansing, bringing out old, poisonous matter that you would not believe was in your system and that has been causing gas, pains, sour stomach, nervousness and headaches for months.

Dr. H. L. Shubert, New York, reports:

"In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adierika greatly reduces bacteria and colon bacilli."

Give your bowels a REAL cleansing with Adierika and see how good you feel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and constipation. At all leading druggists.

State Road Planning Commission Urged by J. J. Whitfield, of Pulaski

Establishment of a state road planning commission to eliminate politics in road construction work and substitute a "rationally planned highway system for Georgia," was advocated yesterday by J. J. Whitfield, president of the Association of County Commissioners of Georgia and commissioner of Pulaski county for the past dozen years.

Under the Whitfield proposal the group would be selected by authority of the Georgia legislature and would make an intensive study of state needs with a view of constructing roads to the imposing scenic mountains to the north, national parks, beauty spots of the state, places of historical interest, etc.

"Creation of such a board would do much to eliminate piecemeal development of the highway system. would react to minimize politics in road construction and would do much to give Georgians a just claim on tourist trade, much of which is escaping us at present," Whitfield asserted in commenting on the proposal.

"The planning commission would co-operate fully with the United States Bureau of Roads in devising needed connecting links to various places of general interest. "No matter how many roads one county may build, it will remain isolated unless there are connecting roads into other counties. Thus one county cannot in itself build roads to markets, cannot construct roads to seashore resorts, to mountains or other places of interest."

"I hope this suggestion will find support in the new state administration and that it will be made operative. I cannot conceive of a more constructive program for the highway department itself to champion. It will be beneficial to every citizen of Georgia."

Whitfield said the idea of a state road planning body was suggested to him through the presentations of scenic Georgia by The Constitution roving cars, which have for the past several years sought out interesting spots and through the grave section presented them to the public.

Among those who will speak from the platform built around the flagpole are Judge John L. Cone, Jesse Draper, Howard Haire, Dr. William Henry Knight, John L. Westerman, Dr. Harvey Cox, Robert H. 32 STATES CONSIDER JOB INSURANCE LAWS

14 States and District of Columbia Have Approved Programs.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Social security officials today reported that 32 states and the District of Columbia have not yet enacted unemployment compensation laws consideration of such legislation was in prospect.

Only 14 states and the District of Columbia have unemployment compensation laws approved by the Social Security Board. Louisiana has enacted a law which will not become effective until 20 days after the result of balloting on a constitutional amendment has been formally proclaimed.

Washington enacted a law which was invalidated by its supreme court. Legislatures in Connecticut and Arizona are in session now to consider the question, the Security Board reported.

Kentucky and Virginia, the board said, are the only states that do not have an employment compensation law and where legislatures are not scheduled to meet until 1937. Legislation for special sessions is reported in both states, the board said.

There will be regular legislative sessions next year in 43 states, the board said.

States which have passed approved unemployment compensation laws are Alabama, California, Idaho, Indiana, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New York, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Texas, Wisconsin and Utah.

In the states where approved laws are in effect by January 1, a federal 1 per cent tax will be levied on pay rolls of persons employing eight or more workers despite the state law. In those states, however, employers will be permitted to deduct from the tax amounts paid during the previous year to the state funds, up to 90 per cent of the total paid.

The government will use the 10 per cent it takes to pay the cost of administering state unemployment compensation laws in effect at the time. The entire tax paid by employers in all other states will go into the federal treasury for general purposes.

MEAD ENTERS RACE AS HOUSE FLOOR CHIEF

Beiter Offers Fellow New Yorker's Candidacy; 3 Others Now in Race.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Banning on an untested bloc of northern Democrats to demand a hand at the helm of the new house. Representative Beiter today entered his fellow New York state, Representative Mead, in the contest for Democratic floor leader.

In announcing this action, Beiter expressed belief that so many committee chairmanships and other strategic positions in the chamber now are held by southerners that a majority of the members would want a northern man for leader.

Mead's candidacy for the leadership made the gathering contest over that important post a four-cornered affair. Representative Rankin, Democrat, Mississippi, one of the trio previously entered, predicted during the day that the race would be hard fought.

He said he had received "encouraging response" from a number of liberal representatives in reply to his pledge to support legislation in the interest of cheap electric power, rural electrification and lower rail rates for southern and western states.

The others already in the race are Representatives Rayburn, Democrat, Texas, and O'Connor, democrat, New York, acting floor leader in the closing weeks of the last session.

Rayburn, who directed the Democratic speakers' bureau during the presidential campaign, has opened a mail campaign for pledges from all house members. O'Connor was expected to plunge into the fight Monday, when he returns from a vacation in Georgia.

House attaches predicted at least two other candidates—Representatives Woodrum, Democrat, Virginia, and Sabath, Democrat, Illinois—would announce for the key office before congress convenes January 3.

The floor leadership contest was expected by veteran representatives to be the only important fight in organization of the house, since Representative Bankhead, Democrat, Alabama, was regarded as certain of reelection to the speakership.

Representative Mead, who came to Washington years ago as a capital policeman and since has been elected to 10 terms in the house, was an unsuccessful candidate for speaker two years ago.

Beiter, who managed his speaker-ship candidacy, said his man should

Piano Ensemble Concerts Prove Colorful and Artistic Success

The annual Georgia piano ensemble concert achieved its greatest success since its beginning three years ago in duplicate concerts yesterday at the Erlanger theater, one in the afternoon, the other last night. The performance last night had a near-capacity audience, which showed hearty appreciation for the varied and colorful program of piano ensemble music, proving that such an undertaking has met with public approval and interest in a decisive degree. And not only has the development in piano-ensemble interest been in Atlanta, but it has permeated the state and some of the finest numbers of the program were from the smaller towns of the state.

An Atlanta unit, comprised of some 33 young student pianists, under the direction of Isabel Bryan, opened the program with "Coronation March" from Meyerbeer's "The Prophet," playing with good ensemble and style. Betty Ragsdale and Mary Head, from LaGrange College, followed, playing the Allegro movement of Mozart's "Sonata in D major," with an admirable feeling for the classic style. Pearl Strickland and Doris Moore, from Piedmont College, formed another two-piano team, playing Grieg's "On the Mountain," giving it a vivid interpretation.

A group of 10 pianists from Agnes Scott College, directed by C. W. Diekmann, rendered Chopin's "Rondo, Opus 73," originally written for two pianos, with artistic balance and finished workmanship. Irene Greenleaf Drake, of Vacon, gave a brilliant interpretation of the win wide support because he has served two terms longer than O'Connor.

Councilman W. M. Sutton brought up the subject to find out why testimony given by the officers in court did not support their charges made in reports. Chief Sturdivant is to bring the officers before the committee if he considers it necessary. Councilman Sutton some time ago introduced a motion in committee

I'M CERTAINLY GRATEFUL TO DR. LEWIS FOR TELLING ME ABOUT PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA. IT SURE RELIEVES MY ACID INDIGESTION IN A HURRY!

On every side today people are being urged to alkalize their stomach. And thus to ease the symptoms of "acid indigestion," nausea and stomach upsets. For perhaps the vast majority of stomach upsets come from an excess of acidity. To gain quick alkalization, just do this: Take two teaspoons of PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA 30 minutes after eating. OR—take two of the new Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets.

Relief comes almost at once—usually in a few minutes. Nausea, "gas"—fullness after eating and "acid indigestion" pains leave. You feel like a new person. Try this way. You'll be surprised at results. Try it particularly if you've been using some less natural and less effective way of overcoming acids. Get either the liquid "Phillips" or the remarkable, new Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets. Each one equals a teaspoon of the liquid, and they're delightful to take and easy to carry. Only 25¢ at all drug stores.

Sir John Simon Charges Both Blocs Receive Foreign Aid.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Home Secretary Sir John Simon charged in the house of commons today that British Communists and Fascists received money from foreign countries.

His allegations were categorically denied by both groups.

In reply to a question from the Socialist member, James Griffiths, Sir John said: "I cannot make a detailed statement, but information has reached me which goes to show that both in the case of Fascist and Communist organizations their funds have been supplemented from abroad."

Sir Oswald Mosley, leader of British Fascists, in a statement demanded Simon produce evidence to support his assertion, and denied the home secretary's allegation.

"It is utterly untrue that the British Union of Fascists receives money from foreign sources," Mosley said.

Communist headquarters likewise refuted Sir John's statement and replied:

"If Sir John has knowledge of such a thing he would have used it before now. We have no knowledge of such a thing."

edit, all I can say is 'Good Heavens.'
"Of course, when I started the writing I thought it was not such a bad idea or I never would have begun. As I worked along, however, I was convinced I would never sell the book. I was certain no one would want to read it. It was about a day so long ago. Everyone had studied or read about the Civil War. The more I thought of this the more I became convinced no one in the world would ever want to read all that old history. Now that it is all over, the whole thing bewitches me."

Only One Plan—To Rest.

She has only one definite plan for the future: she wants to take a rest, and she will.
She is not going any. Unlike others who have met sudden success in literary fields, she has no thoughts or emotions surging up within her clamoring to be put down on paper, that the world may be made just a trifle better place in which to live. She is not planning to take a cottage among the intellectuals on Cape Cod.

Margaret Mitchell has had the chance to more than double the size of the small fortune she has made out of "Gone With the Wind." Magazine editors have beset her from all sides; syndicate editors have added to the clamor. "Just write us something about anything," they plead, dangling incredible offers before her.
She is not averse to making money; she understands money has its advantages. But she is tired. She says while she is so tired and weary, her life is in an uproar just now. But, when the mail has fallen off and the autograph hunters have passed, she intends to take a rest. She has no other plan in mind. When she is thoroughly relaxed, she will think about the future—not before.

One Disturbing Thought.

She has just one disturbing thought today and that is the public interest in her private life. After all, this is her freshman year as a celebrity. She has a lot to learn and, unlike the average freshman, she knows it.
"I know," she says, "that the public's interest in my book is inextricably tied up with its interest in me. There is no separating them, I suppose. I do believe, though, that my private life is my own. After all, I am not out trying to sell my personality like a moving picture actress or some candidate for public office. I am merely selling a book I have written."

"I don't like to have women storming into a department store booth while I am standing there in my petticoat trying on new dresses. They actually did this to me. They questioned me like a crowd of hard-hearted district attorneys. They wanted to know the size of my intimate wearing apparel. They screamed to one another about me as I stood there like an animal in a cage, one asking another: 'Ain't she skinny?' while still another observed: 'I expected her to look more middle-aged around the hips.'"
"I don't like to have them comment on the fact that I have no lace on my petticoat."

Cold Cream Barred.

"I can't put cold cream on my face during the day. As sure as I do, Hattie, the maid, goes out to the store and a delegation of women call to interview me. I go to the door with the cream all over my face and my head wrappi up in a towel and they come in and there I am. I feel so undressed, if you know what I mean. It's getting so I don't dare put cold cream on my face until very late at night."

"I have always tried to be more or less neat about my personal appearance, but I go down the street now with my petticoat accidentally hanging from a fraction of an inch below my skirt. It becomes a city-wide scandal. They ask one another: 'Isn't she careless? Isn't it too bad?' and my heartens, any woman ought to know that a petticoat is liable to slip a trifle on an off day."

"All these letters and telegrams and telephone calls and personal calls I get today are keeping me busy. I don't get time to get around places as I once expected. I don't know whether I have politely made my excuses, the report gets back to me that someone has said: 'With all this success, she has the swell head.' Or she certainly has become stuck up."

Too Busy To Go Places.

"I'm just too busy to go many places nowadays. I have always been accustomed to visit old friends and to go out to dinner. But, I don't get a chance now to visit old friends in hospitals or folks with new babies. I haven't been to one of them parties this year. I don't have time."

"I know these people who mob me on the streets have the best intentions. They are people that someone in their town has written a best seller."

But, I want them to be interested in the book and not in me.
"Of course, it's not all bad. The nice things outweigh the bad. The best discovery I have made since I have written the book is the kindness of many other strangers. A lot of them go out of the way to do me a good turn. Particularly, those who realize how uncomfortable I am when I am being mobbed and help me to escape."
Still "Touch of Country."
"I know we can't disregard what the world says of us but we ought to have some say about how the world treats us."
"I want more time to myself. I want time to see my friends and my relatives. I scarcely ever see my father or brother and his family lately. I believe I am entitled to lead the quiet life I like. I have always been accustomed to that sort of life and I want this excitement to die down so I can settle down and enjoy living."
She is getting a thrill out of most of it, however. When she was told this interview would be too long for one story and would have to be split into a series, she exclaimed:
"Good heavens, who thought I would ever be out in installments!"
As she admits, she still has a touch of the country in her.

RIGID CITY ECONOMY DEMANDED BY BANKS

pression of the attitude of the bankers regarding the city's financial plight.
Glenn directed a letter to Milam demanding to know how the council proposed to begin reducing the demand for money at the same time the clearing house refused to absorb $800,000 in city scrip for November and December salaries for the 4,000 employees of the municipality.
This refusal by the banks, although a blow to city leaders, was not construed in itself as insurmountable, but the attitude of the banks alarmed those now in authority and those who will take over the reins of the government on January 4.

Crisis Threatened.

Should the banks refuse to lend the city about $2,000,000 needed between January 1 and May 1 to operate, the city will face the most acute fiscal crisis in recent years.

On January three days before Mayor-nominee William B. Hartsfield and the newly reduced 18-man city council takes office, $750,000 will come due in bonds and interest on outstanding securities. If that is not paid the bonds will be in default. Atlanta has never defaulted on an obligation thus far.

Salaries Endangered.

Salaries for the first four months of the year under customary operation are borrowed from the banks to be repaid from tax collections in May. If the banks refuse to advance Atlanta funds, employees' salaries may be in serious jeopardy for that period.
The fact the new council will be composed largely of the membership of the present council has a maturing bearing on the matter, it was said yesterday.

When Milam and other conservative elements in the council called on members of council to sustain Mayor's veto to diversion of $35,000 to reinstate the city's debt, a majority of those who will compose the new council voted to override Mayor's veto.

This caused bankers to review the matter and to be concerned as to whether the new council would be any more conservative than the present group.

Clearing house members therefore reached the conclusion:
"The new council will be composed of the same group which voted an ill-considered reinstatement which the city could not afford if it intended to do anything toward a reduction of the city debt."

power for their own aggrandizement.
"The American Federation of Labor met this issue fearlessly and with a determination to protect the great American labor movement from the influence and control of those who would destroy it through the influence of Russia and her Communist policy."
Commends Stand.
This department commends the executive council highly for the noble stand it has taken in defense of the American Federation of Labor."
John P. Frey, president of the metal trades department, said there was "no genuine intention" behind peace overtures as far as the Lewis faction was concerned.

Frey brought the charges of "insurrection," against the 10 rebels which led to their suspension two months ago.

The recent meeting of the Committee for Industrial Organization executive committee in Pittsburgh, he said, "was called for the purpose of considering what would be done to deal with the Lewis faction."

"But these unions deliberately went out of their way to show us what their intentions really were, for they definitely set up a dual federation of labor in this country."

"They proved charges we had made were well-founded because they admitted into the C. I. O. two dual organizations—the Radio and Electric Workers and the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipyard Workers of America."

"So again we have the position of Mr. Lewis clearly indicated."

The New Fall Topcoat Is Tweedy and Casual

SMART TOPCOAT FOR FALL

Here is the fly-fronted raglan with slash pockets, which is one of the leaders in topcoat styles for fall. It is especially smart in a cheviot cloth.

S. B. Raglans and Balmacaans are Leading Models—Garments Are Cut Looser and With More Swagger—D. B. Camel's Hair Coat Is Up in Front—Box Coats, Too.

By ROBERT FAIRCHILD, Editor Men's Fashions.

Topcoats this season are coming closer to constituting a category of garments in their own right rather than being merely lighter-weight overcoats. What fashion designers are guising the topcoat from the overcoat is its swagger, its ease and the more obvious drapes of its lines.
When it comes to useful coats, of course there comes to mind immediately the reversible topcoat, that happy combination of raincoat and topcoat born a few seasons back in the fertile mind of an undergraduate, disgraced by having his topcoat raised by rain of which there had been no sign when he had set out in the morning. The waterproof side of the currently popular reversible coat is usually cotton or worsted, galvanized or twill, and the topcoat side is Shetland or tweed in an overcheck or similar sporty pattern. No matter which side is worn out of course, the lapel facings are formed by the reverse side.

The double and single-breasted box coats with regular set-in sleeves are two other leaders in topcoat styles this fall. In these coats, too, the tendency may be noticed toward the looser fit, cut in a drape effect. Topcoats generally are slightly longer, following the trend in jackets.

in one district at least with personal attacks on the king.
"Actually, it is now abundantly clear that the king's friendship, with the assistance of the American and foreign press, has been grossly exploited by persons who occupied, in the last reign, a position in which they could influence the throne, and who are greatly disappointed that they cannot do the same at the present time."

On his inspection tour today, the king braved heavy rain and utilized a speedboat with which to visit five battleships where he displayed keen interest in the food and provisions for comfort for lower-deck deck stars.
Tonight he visited 1,800 officers and men and attended a ship's entertainment aboard the aircraft carrier Courageous. He will continue his inspection tomorrow.

Observers indicated that the "obstacles" to peace discussions centered upon the determination of both shipowners and unions to control the hiring agencies.

This has been the major issue from the outside. The 1934 longshore award gave shipowners and unions joint control technically but shipowners said the unions had taken complete control.

Unions declined to accept anything less than full control, alleging some of their members would be discriminated against if the employers had a hand in the distribution of men to jobs.

EUGENE O'NEILL WINS NOBEL LITERARY PRIZE

the death of Alfred B. Nobel, Swedish discoverer of dynamite, who left the $9,000,000 fund from which the prizes are given.
O'Neill is considered by the Scandinavian public the world's leading playwright. "Mourning Becomes Electra," a trilogy, will be staged in connection with the Nobel festival.

Held Pulitzer Prize.

The 48-year-old O'Neill has won the Pulitzer prize for the drama three times something no other dramatist has done. The Pulitzer awards in various fields were established in the will of Joseph Pulitzer, American publisher who died in 1914.
O'Neill's latest play presented in New York was "Days Without End," which ran early in 1935. The previous season "Ah, Wilderness!" had a lengthy run.

Besides "Strange Interlude" and "Mourning Becomes Electra," the American playwright's other plays are—more than 35 in all—include "The Emperor Jones," which was also made into a motion picture and an opera; "The Iceman Cometh," "Desire Under the Elm," "Marco Millions," "Lazarus Laughed," and "Beyond the Horizon."

O'Neill has roamed the world and lived in all sorts of circumstances. His first plays were one-act pieces about the sea, but many of his later ones dealt with war, suicide, violent death and insanity.

He lives with his third wife—the former Charlotte Monterey—on an island off the coast of Georgia.
He is now in Seattle, Wash., working on a play of the far west in 1800.

Prizes are awarded yearly in physics, chemistry, medicine, world peace and literature under the foundation fund which Nobel left.

At the office of the collector of internal revenue in New York it was said O'Neill would have to pay an income tax on the Nobel prize. The amount of the tax, it was said, would depend on the playwright's total income for the year.

O'NEILL HEARS NEWS WHILE IN SEATTLE.

SEATTLE, Nov. 12.—(P)—Eugene O'Neill believes his play, "Mourning Becomes Electra," was the chief factor in his winning the 1936 Nobel prize for literature.

But he obtained the greatest personal pleasure from writing "The Great God Brown" and "The Iceman Cometh."

The famed playwright was outlining four years' work—an eight-play saga of American life—when he received word of the Nobel prize today.

"Naturally I'm very happy," he said. "I feel like a horse that has just been given a blue ribbon."

"I did not think an American would get the award so soon after Sinclair Lewis received it in 1930."

Then the playwright, slender, nervous, his brown eyes sparkling, turned to a discussion of the eight plays he is planning. He and his wife, the former actress, Charlotte Monterey, arrived here 10 days ago to make Seattle their home while O'Neill gathers background for his new drama series. Their permanent home is in Sea Island, Ga.

AUTHOR HAS HOME AT SEA ISLAND BEACH.

SEA ISLAND BEACH, Ga., Nov. 12.—(P)—Living a secluded life with his wife and three children here, Eugene O'Neill is one of the most "secluded" residents of this coastal Georgia resort, where he adopted as his Georgia home several years ago. The O'Neill home, surrounded by a concrete wall more than eight feet tall, is a closely guarded palace of the famed author, with admission obtainable only by special invitation upon the part of the writer himself or Mrs. O'Neill, the former actress, Charlotte Monterey.

Likes Fishing.

An occasional fishing trip to bridges spanning nearby waters where he enjoys the sport dressed in usual outdoor wear and a rubber hat, with others who fail to recognize him, is one of his two pastimes and recreations away from the privacy of his study, where he spends days at a time over his writings.

Regular dips in the surf of the Atlantic ocean, which is just a stone's throw from his home, are also enjoyed by the author, regardless of the temperature or weather conditions.

O'Neill works in a picturesque study which is a reproduction of the roundhouse of an old-time sailing vessel. He arrives and leaves are unannounced. He spends most of his time here, devoting several weeks each year to New York, where he went recently preparatory to a trip to the Pacific coast.

AUSTRIAN PROFESSOR WINS CHEMISTRY PRIZE.

BERLIN, Nov. 12.—(P)—Professor Peter Joseph Wilhelm Debye, winner of the 1936 Nobel prize for chemistry, was born March 24, 1884.

During his career he has been a professor in Aachen, Munich and Zurich.

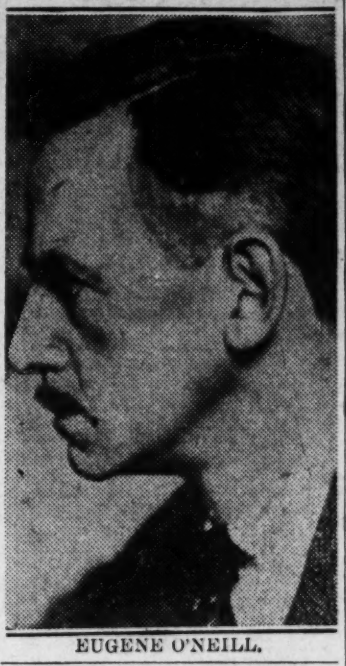

He is a member of a number of academies of science, including the Washington (D. C.) and Boston academies.

He is also a Rumford and Faraday medalist. He is the author of a book, "Polar Molecules."

EUGENE O'NEILL.

"delighted" that the award had gone this year to Eugene O'Neill, he said.

"He enormously deserves it," Lewis said. "I can't think of a better candidate than Eugene O'Neill, a man of great power and vision, and there's nothing in my admiration of him because I haven't seen him in 15 years."

The quick-moving, red-haired author of "Babbalanza," "Main Street," and more recently, "It Can't Happen Here," said O'Neill had "given more dignity to the drama than any one else I can think of."

"I had only two candidates in the world for the prize," he added. "One was Eugene O'Neill and the other was H. G. Wells."

PHYSICIST SAYS JOE NO ONE-MAN AFFAIR.

PASADENA, Cal., Nov. 12.—(P)—Modest Dr. Carl David Anderson, 31-year-old physicist, tonight gave his associates major credit for the work which brought him a share of the Nobel award in physics.

The Academy of Sciences at Stockholm, Sweden, announced today the prize would go to Dr. Anderson and to Dr. V. F. Hess, of Innsbruck University, Austria.

"It was no one-man job," said the dark-eyed young bachelor of his discovery four years ago of one of the tiniest particles in nature, the positron or positive electron, a particle of the atom.

His associates in the work were Dr. Robert A. Millikan, Nobel laureate in physics, and Dr. S. H. Neddermeyer.

'STRIKE' BECALMS TURKEY MARKET.

Texans Demand Probe of "Price Fixing," Refuse 12 Cents a Pound.

GONZALES, Texas, Nov. 12.—(P)—A growers' strike becalmed this vast turkey market tonight on the eve of the annual holiday buying rush.

A quarter of a million turkeys—potential Thanksgiving dinners—strutted the Gonzales ranges while growers stubbornly refused a 12-cent price of 12 cents and demanded an investigation of a "uniform market" and alleged "price fixing."

The average price for No. 1 birds last year was 15 cents.

Seven leading retailers telegraphed Attorney General Homer S. Cummings and State Attorney William McGraw urging investigation of what they termed anti-trust law violations.

McGraw and Scott Gaines, assistant state attorney general, planned a conference on the Gonzales raisers' request.

HEAVY LOSS CHARGED IN RAYON STOCK CASE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(P)—How thousands of letters were sent to investors and followed up by telephone sales talks urging them "to add to their holdings of Rayon Industries stock" was described today in trial of the mail fraud case against National Investment Transcript, Inc., and 15 individuals.

John and William Danks, brothers and mail clerks employed at Camden, N. J., offices of the investment corporation said the mail was so voluminous that it was "packed into mail bags" in the office and sent directly to the postoffice.

Clement H. Congdon, of Philadelphia, head of the corporation, published an "investor's guide." Assistant United States Attorney Leo Fennelly said, which he referred to as "a tipster sheet," puffing Rayon Industries stock to investors.

Fennelly charges that investors lost $5,000,000 because promises made by defendants failed to materialize. The trial will continue tomorrow.

Ina Claire Wins Medal for Diction; 'Gone With Wind' Gets High Praise

Mitchell Opus and Santayana Novel Termed "Two Most Important of 1936" by Professor W. L. Phelps at Academy of Arts and Letters Meetings.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(P)—The American Academy of Arts and Letters awarded its annual gold medal for good diction on the stage to Ina Claire today.

Professor William Lyon Phelps, chairman of the committee, announced the award at the conclusion of literary exercises on the academy's program which commemorated the 100th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Bailey Aldrich, poet and novelist.

Miss Claire, who has been with the theater since 1912, is playing in Chicago in "End of Summer," in which she appeared on Broadway last season. She is a native of Washington, D. C., the daughter of Joseph Fagan.

Other winners of the medal include Walter Hampden, Oris Skinner, George Arliss, Julia Marlowe and Lynn Fontanne.

In an address during the exercises, Professor Phelps called "Gone With the Wind" by Margaret Mitchell, and "The Last Puritan," by George Santayana, "the two most important American novels of the year 1936."

Of "The Last Puritan," he said, "It proceeds from a great and luminous mind, and its observations on life and human nature are profound and penetrating. . . . The characters are creations of the mind, rather than living creatures of flesh and blood."

"The case is otherwise with 'Gone With the Wind.' Here the mere literary style is undistinguished, not crude, not cheap, not trivial, but undistinguished. Yet the characters are alive. . . . If one should read 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' just before reading 'Gone With the Wind,' one would obtain two opposite ideas of slavery. The only person who ever spoke the real truth about it was Mark Twain."

"Gone With the Wind" deserves its success; it is a steadily exciting story, and its picture of the south after the Civil War is so that one woman, who has lived in New England all her life, shouted while reading it, 'Damn those Yankees!'

DICTION WINNER SAYS SHE IS UNSCHOOLLED.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—(P)—Ina Claire today received the gold medal for good diction between performances of her current starring vehicle, "End of Summer."

"It's the first time," she said after her brief acceptance speech by radio, "I ever felt like taking myself seriously. It makes me very self-conscious. I don't like that."

She was "extremely embarrassed," she said, "because I fear that you have not chosen one who is a very good advertisement for higher education. . . . I can almost truthfully say that I never went to school. My primary school was vauclerville. I was a 'niece' and I must have had what good mimicry takes, a good ear."

She said she first became conscious of clear speech "at the lucky age of 12."

"All youngsters learn by imitation," Miss Claire said. "I am glad I was a mimic."

"Diction was not easy for her, she said, because 'nature presented me with a short upper lip which tripped over words of two syllables, not to mention four-syllable words in theater guild comedies.'"

Expanding on the point later, she said, "Look, my nose goes up and down when I talk."

STATE TROOPER LEADS G-MEN IN BANDIT HUNT.

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 12.—(P)—J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, ordered all available agents in the east to assist State Trooper William A. Turnbull as he personally led the search for three persons who had kidnapped him.

Turnbull and other state policemen searched in the vicinity of Bethlehem and Freeburg, Pa., where a girl and two men threw him into a mountain ditch after robbing him of revolver and money and threatening to "bump him off."

He had been abducted when he stopped the trio yesterday for speeding near Somerville, five miles to the east of where he was released.

Colonel Mark O. Kimberling, state police superintendent, said nothing had been found "which could be considered a good clue."

METHODIST SESSION OPENS AT COLUMBUS

Unification Discussed Privately as South Georgia Conference Meets.

By RICHARD McMURRAY.
COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Methodist leaders talked privately tonight of church unity at the opening of the South Georgia Conference of the denomination.

It appeared unlikely, however, that the subject would reach the convention floor. Churchmen said the question likely would be decided by the general conference of the southern branch of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, later.

Favorable Trend.
Annual conferences of the Methodist Episcopal church and the Protestant Methodist church branches are voting on the merger. The trend has been universally favorable.

The unification plan was worked out in detail by a commission composed of ministers and laymen from the three divisions. Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, of Macon, and Dr. T. D. Ellis, both of the South Georgia Conference, served on the commission.

The South Georgia Conference—

comprising over 220 congregations—opened tonight. It will close Sunday.

Groundwork for the conference was complete. Bishops Ainsworth and Ellis, presiding elders have been in conference here since Tuesday.

Sharing interest with the merger discussions were convocations of churchmen over new pastoral assignments. A large number of pastors expect to be changed to new congregations. Announcements are made Sunday.

Sessions were held at the spacious St. Luke's Methodist church—a landmark in this west Georgia industrial city.

Leaders expressed hope the sessions would be crisp and swift. Lengthy discussions on various topics would delay the agenda of business, compressed into a shorter space than customary.

Interest in Report.
The report of the board of Christian education was awaited with interest. The board has charge of the Episcopal League, assists in educational programs at colleges and assists the board of missions.

Delegates, around 400 in number, were scattered throughout the city. Churchmen expected no constitutional questions would be raised. The last such question was at the Macon conference two years ago. Then, a law was passed requiring a pastor who had served a term as presiding elder to stay out of the cabinet at least four years.

Bishop Issues Warning.
Bishop Ainsworth warned the convention tonight that civilization is "headed straight for disaster if we do not change our course."

The Macon minister's remarks were the opening salvo in the convention. "Civilization has reached the crossroads," Bishop Ainsworth said, "the most serious minded leaders of the race are wondering where we are going. The world is growing in darkness among the thoughtful that society has taken a wrong turn."

The bishop called for a "new world direction," and said "tremendous emphasis is being placed on better distribution of the world's material goods."

EDITORS 'TALK SHOP' AT CHICAGO MEETING

Newspaper Executives Hear of Hardships of 'Covering' Ethiopian War.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The hardships and the humor of covering war in Ethiopia were described to members of the Associated Press Managing Editors' Association today by Edward Neil, who was a front line reporter for the Associated Press in the Italo-Ethiopian conflict.

Neil was among several speakers at a session of "shop talk" held by the more than 200 newspaper executives attending the association's annual convention here.

He got a medal in Ethiopia, said he had to give it back.

Recounting the incident, he said he was awakened one morning in Addis Ababa, told to put on his boots and appear on the parade ground.

"Well, they gave me a gold medal," he said with a grin. "As I was walking from the parade ground a be-whiskered officer tapped me on the shoulder and asked me to give him the medal back."

It developed the medal had merely been loaned for the ceremony. Neil got one of his own later, and he was also decorated by the Ethiopian government for his journalistic work.

Censorship.

Neil spoke of the rigors of censorship and the uncertainty of getting a story through after it was written, commenting it was like "throwing a bottle into the sea and hoping a ship would pick it up."

He described the fighting between the Italians and Ethiopians as relentless, with no quarter on either side. He gave no credit to the Ethiopians as rifle marksmen, but said they were deadly with their short swords, fashioned somewhat like bouzoukis.

The editors were given an eyewitness account of the death of an Italian priest, Fra Julianna, slain by an Ethiopian swordsmen, who left the protection of his own lines to administer the last sacrament to a dying soldier. Such evidences of heroism, Neil said, were frequent among the Italian conquerors.

Another speaker at today's session, presided over by Oliver Owen Kuhn, of the Washington Evening Star, general chairman of the association, was John Evans, chief of the Associated Press foreign service.

Evans declared the two American continents were the only places in the world in which there appeared no present likelihood of armed conflict.

Spain Symbolizes Europe.

In a general discussion of world affairs as he found them mirrored in the cables passing daily through his office in New York, Evans said the situation in Spain was "symbolic of Europe."

"Spain, to start with, is an uncertainty," he declared. "All Europe is nebulous."

Dealing with most of the major possibilities of trouble in Europe, he discussed what might happen in the event that Russia, "as a leader," and France, "as a possible supporter," went to the aid of a defeated liberal government in Spain.

Other speakers on the afternoon program, which included discussions of election and convention services and news writing, were Rudi Walters, of the Register & Tribune, Des Moines; Roy Roberts, of the Star, Kansas City; Luther Fieger, of the Palladium, Richmond, Ind.; E. S. Beck, of the Chicago Tribune; M. V. Atwood, of the Gannett Newspapers, Rochester, N. Y.; and L. D. Hotchkiss, of the Times, Los Angeles, Cal.

A banquet occupied the evening, with, with another day of technical discussions before the adjournment to-morrow night.

LONDON, HAMILTON CONFER ON FUTURE

Republicans, at Kansas City, Lay Groundwork for Active Organization.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Governor Alf M. Landon, of Kansas, defeated Republican presidential nominee, and John Hamilton, national chairman, met today—the first time since election—to lay groundwork for their party's future.

They met in a hotel lobby and shook hands heartily. Hamilton came from Chicago by airplane and Landon by train from Topeka.

Before the retired to a hotel room to confer, Hamilton discussed plans to retain a working organization party headquarters at Washington, adding: "We need that."

Said Landon: "The last campaign has demonstrated that you can't build an effective organization in just four months. That's about what we're going to discuss."

The national chairman pointed to "three things the Republican party can do."

"First, we must see that the Republican point of view is clearly presented."

"Second, we must keep contact with Republican officeholders, particularly those in congress."

"Third, we must keep in contact with field workers."

"We want to keep an active minority. And it's a fair sized minority. Seventeen million—17,000,000 people who, I believe, voted for honest convictions without fear or favor. That minority won't be proportionately represented in congress."

'Anthony Adverse' Run Starts Today at Fox

With no advance in prices, the long-awaited Warner Brothers production of "Anthony Adverse" will start today at the Fox theater today, with Fredric March as the off-stellar role and Olivia de Havilland in the feminine lead.

In its panoramic story sweep through the centuries and through continents, the magnitude of its 131 sets, the picturesqueness of its backgrounds, the gigantic scale on which it was produced and the vast number of talented players in its cast, "Anthony Adverse" surpasses any picture filmed by Warner Brothers and is said by those who have seen the preview to be the most spectacular piece of entertainment ever attempted in Hollywood.

The novel, which took Hervey Allen four years to write, was finally whittled into its finished screen form after more than two years of arduous labor on the part of nearly 3,000 technicians in addition to more than 2,500 players who portray the many characters seen in the film.

Besides March and Miss de Havilland, some of the important players include Edmund Gwenn, Claude Rains, Anita Louise, Louis Hayward, Gale Sondergaard, Steffi Duna, Billy Beavers, and the off-stellar role of the film, Ralph Morgan, Henry O'Neill, Pedro de Cordoba, George E. Stone and Luis Alberni. Melvyn LeRoy directed.

'Theodora Goes Wild' Opens at Rialto Today

"Theodora Goes Wild," the new Columbia production that is so delightful to review audiences has argued without result as to whether or not it is better than "Mr. Deeds," "If You Could Only Cook" and "It Happened One Night," opens its run at the Rialto theater today.

Irene Dunne, star of the new picture, is the latest well-known player to enjoy the benefit of the peculiar magic the Columbia studio seems to wield. In a role totally different from the type of characterizations she has given in the past, she proves she is better in the light, comedy parts than in the more emotional she has done in the past.

Melvyn Douglas is her masculine lead, while the entire supporting cast is remarkable for the fitness of each player and the splendid character work done.

The story is that of a small, narrow-minded town and one of its daughters, a girl who wins success, anonymously, as the author of the world's hottest popular novels of the day. How her secret is disclosed and what the town does about it, together with the entanglements of the delicious romance in which she becomes involved, form the basis for a story whose every development is a surprise and whose outcome is an astonishment.

'Come and Get It' Opens at Loew's Grand Today

Dynamiting of the giant logs and their thundering journey down the river are only two of the thrills moviegoers will enjoy when "Come and Get It," Samuel Goldwyn's production of Edna Ferber's colorful novel of life in the great lumber camps of the north woods, begins today at Loew's Grand theater, with Edward Arnold in his greatest role as Barney Glasgow, the chore boy who became a lumber baron.

The battle between Barney and the lumberjacks; the fight between Barney and his son for the love of the beautiful Lotta, and one of the most spectacular cave battles ever screened are other breath-taking highlights of this screen version of the greatest novel ever written by the author of "Cimarron," "So Big" and "Show Boat."

Joel McCrea, Frances Farmer and Walter Brennan are prominently featured in the cast of "Come and Get It," which also includes the famous stage star, Mary Nash, Andrea Leeds, lovely new Goldwyn discovery, and Frank Shields, the handsome tennis star.

"Come and Get It" was directed by Howard Hawks and William Wyler from a screen play by Jules Furthman and Jane Murnin. The production is released through United Artists.

New Star for Screen Debuts at Paramount

While a playwright is shaping the destiny of his characters, a girl, in search of an author, moulds the destiny of the playwright against his will, in Universal's romantic comedy, "The Man I Marry," which comes to the Paramount theater today. Then, to complete the campaign, she refashions his play over his strenuous objection, helps turn it into a smash hit and turns him, from a woman hater, into a worshipper at her shrine.

The star role in this modern romance is portrayed by Doris Nolan, a vibrant new movie personality, who formerly scored on the New York

TRANSPORTATION BODY PROPOSED BY EASTMAN

New Department Would Work With I. C. C., Commissioner Says.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Joseph B. Eastman said tonight that many of the nation's traffic problems could be solved by co-ordinating all types of carrier regulation under a federal department of transportation.

The interstate commerce commissioner spoke before the Academy of Political Science on "Transportation Problems and Suggestions Toward a Constructive Solution."

"A good start in rounding out the system of public regulation was made in the motor carrier act, 1935," he said, "and I hope that the same thing can be done for the water carriers and the air carriers."

Advocates Regulation.

"The government must see to it that competition does not take on unfair and destructive forms, and that the operations of the various types of carriers are combined and co-ordinated where that will serve the public interest best."

Drawing on the experience of the British ministry of transport, Eastman said:

"The establishment of such a department of transportation here is worthy of consideration. My own inclination is to prefer a nonpolitical, independent agency, associated with the (Interstate Commerce) commission."

RATE CUTS SAVE
USERS 177 MILLION

Light, Gas and Phone Reductions Keep Many Dollars in Pockets.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 12. (AP)—Utility users in the United States saved $177,798,000 during the 3 1/2-years ended last June 30 as a result of rate reductions ordered by state commissions, report for the National Association of Railroad and Utility Commissioners said today.

The report, drafted by the organization's "special committee on program," says that during the 3 1/2-year period users of electricity were saved $96,199,277 through rate reductions, not including those of New York and Arizona.

Gas rates were cut to save customers $24,479,948 during the period, the report said, and at the same time telephone subscribers saved $19,019,272.

Thomas E. McKay, member of Utah's Public Utility Commission, was re-elected president of the organization yesterday. Alex M. Mahood, of West Virginia, was elected first vice president and Nelson Lee Smith, of New Hampshire, second vice president. Clyde S. Bailey, of Washington, was reappointed secretary.

F.D.R. Cabinet May Resign in Body
To Permit Shakeup After January

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's entire cabinet may resign before his second inauguration next January 20—but that's just an old cabinet custom.

With conjecture rife concerning the probable makeup of the next cabinet, a White House attaché expressed belief the ten present cabinet officers would tender their resignations near the close of President Roosevelt's current term "as a matter of delicacy," thus leaving him free to reappoint whom he desired.

At the State Department, however, experts on precedent said neither resignation nor ministers would submit resignations inasmuch as the election produced no change of administration. Where the cabinet is concerned, a search of treaties on the subject in the Library of Congress disclosed some changes in custom over the years, especially regarding the reappointment of cabinet members by holdover presidents.

"Originally a person nominated and confirmed to a cabinet position held his office without a new appointment and a new commission under a president succeeding himself," one historian wrote, "but a custom grew up that when a president, elected to a second term, desired to retain any member of his former cabinet, for him to renominat such a person to the senate."

President Wilson, however, did not go through the formality of renominating the members he retained in his second cabinet; the writer said, and neither did President Coolidge when he succeeded Harding. These precedents just retained certain old cabinet members without reappointment.

In the early days of the country, cabinet members were not appointed for any fixed term, but an act of congress in 1896 provided they should hold office during the term of the President by whom they were appointed and for one month thereafter. Now, White House sources said, they hold office "at the pleasure of the President."

A clause to this effect was inserted in the commissions issued cabinet officers by President Andrew Jackson and White House officials said present-day commissions retain the stipulation.

Another sidelight on presidential cabinets is that there is nothing in the constitution requiring organization of such a body. One clause provides that the chief executive may require in writing the opinions of any of the principal officers of the executive departments but nowhere is he specifically directed to form them into a cabinet or to consult them.

CAPITAL-LABOR PARLEY ANNOUNCED BY BERRY

At Same Time Senator O'Mahoney Reveals New Bill To Achieve NRA.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Amid speculation over President Roosevelt's plans for achieving the objectives of NRA, a call went out today for business and labor to meet here next month to formulate "a program of industrial legislation looking toward long-time stabilization of recovery."

The call issued by Major George L. Berry, co-ordinator for industrial cooperation, invited all representatives of industry and labor to meet with the council for industrial progress here December 10 and 11.

At the same time, Senator O'Mahoney, Democrat, Wyoming, announced he was framing a new bill for licensing corporations engaged in interstate commerce, a proposal widely discussed as a means of achieving NRA objectives.

On a third front, Secretary Roper was preparing a report for President Roosevelt on the accomplishments and shortcomings of NRA, which officials said would be ready for the White House in about a month.

In view of the recent election results, Berry's call was regarded with more significance than was accorded his industrial conference last year. Apparently taking cognizance of the new situation, Berry said in his announcement:

"Industry, and the government as well, must yield to and reflect the people's will. Our program will go forward and will affect all those who operate the business affairs of this democracy."

'DEAD' VET FAILS TO COLLECT BONUS

Wife Received Money After Ex-Soldier Was Declared Drowned.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The government ruled today that Jesse Owen Gifford could not recover war service compensation paid to his wife after he had been legally but erroneously declared dead.

The ruling came from Richard N. Elliott, acting comptroller general, after the Veterans' Administration disclosed last month that they had received an application for bonus payment from Gifford, who submitted fingerprints to prove his identity. Located at Susanville, Cal., Gifford indicated he did not intend to return to his home at South Pittsburgh, Tenn. Elliott ruled that "The payment of Gifford's widow was a good and sufficient payment and the settlement should not be disturbed."

Survey Shows 'Leggers Still Highly Organized'

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Asserting the bootlegging business "is as highly organized since repeal as it was during prohibition," the Institute of Public Administration tonight called for an enlargement of law enforcement agencies.

The institute, announcing the first of a series of conclusions based on a two-year study of the liquor problem, estimated 40,000,000 gallons of untaxed liquor were produced in 1935 as compared with the withdrawal of $2,816,000 gallons of tax-paid spirits.

Luther Gulick, director of the institute, said: "At present we lack the police manpower to defeat the bootleggers; we can eliminate some of them and only harass others. The alcohol tax unit should have at least a thousand additional men. State liquor law enforcement units should also be considerably increased."

As an alternative method of discouraging bootleggers the report suggested a substantial reduction in liquor taxes, but said:

"It is not likely that, with their present need of revenue, governments will move toward this reduction."

"The bootlegger's unfair competition is a demoralizing factor in the legal trade and his cheap goods constitute a corrupting influence of a large number of retailers and on consumers who keep their silence about tax evasion."

U. S. GOLD HOLDINGS GAIN $102,000,000

Government Now Owns Half of Supply of Metal in World.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(AP)—A continued inflow of gold, pushing $102,000,000 upward in a month, was shown today in the Federal Reserve Board's weekly condition statement.

The sustained inflow brought this country's holdings of the metal to $11,105,000,000 on November 10. This compared with $11,058,000,000 for the previous week and $11,003,000,000 on October 14.

When the United States Great Britain and France effected the tri-power monetary agreement late in September, some economists predicted the co-operative understanding would tend to retard gold shipments to this country. A trend to the contrary, however, has been the case. Imports for October increased sharply over September.

Last month's gold imports were reported by the Commerce Department at $218,928,514, compared with $171,866,183 in September.

At present, the United States holds about half of the world's gold.

FRANKLIN CUTCHEON DIES IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Franklin Warner M. Cutcheon, retired civil worker and lawyer, former secretary general of the American Red Cross and special legal advisor to General John J. Pershing during the World War, died today at his home at Locust Valley on Long Island.

A sufferer for several years from a heart ailment, Mr. Cutcheon had returned from his winter home in Santa Barbara, Cal., last month and had expected to leave tomorrow to return to Santa Barbara for the winter.

He retired in 1924 after practicing for nearly 40 years in St. Paul, Minn., and New York.

The hospital was swamped with reporters, photographers, and the curious. A scramble started immediately for adoption of the child and applicants for its custody complicated the scene here.

Custody, officials said, will now await a further investigation of the case and Mrs. Crawford's motherhood claims.

Moses, meanwhile, unbothered by all the uproar, yawned, stretched, cried and ate just as any other infant.

Mrs. Crawford surrendered the child to parish authorities only after a court order was issued. "I found that baby," she was quoted as saying then. "I saved his life and I'm not going to give him up. I'll move heaven and earth to get him back."

THOMAS PRAISES
U. S. TRADE POLICY

Chamberlain Tells Commons Anglo-American Commercial Pact Is Sought.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Eugene P. Thomas, president of the National Foreign Trade Council and the National Foreign Trade Association, said tonight the two principal factors in removing barriers to foreign trade are the reciprocal trade agreements made by the United States and the recent currency agreement between England, France and the United States.

Discussing plans for the annual convention of the foreign trade council, which will be held in Chicago November 18, 19 and 20, Thomas said: "Sentiment has changed toward the United States, which now enjoys the increasing good-will of other nations. Other governments are looking to America for leadership in bringing the world back to economic sanity. Trade barriers are beginning to crumble under reciprocal trade agreements. Order is being brought out of chaos."

TRADE PACT SOUGHT WITH UNITED STATES

LONDON, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Consideration of a trade agreement with the United States is "one of the main objects of his majesty's government," Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, told the house of commons today.

In authoritative circles it was said that general discussions for an Anglo-American trade treaty were going on but that there was slight prospect of immediate agreement.

The British government, Chamberlain said, "will continue to keep in touch with the governments of the United States, France and other nations" concerning the general question of international trade.

PRESIDENT TO INSPECT
U. S. LOW COST HOUSING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(AP)—A spokesman for the Resettlement Administration said today that Dr. Bedford G. Tucker, its director, would like to see unemployed workers put to building a "great number" of suburban housing developments for low-income families.

This assertion was made as President Roosevelt agreed to accompany Tucker tomorrow afternoon on an inspection of resettlement's $9,000,000 relief housing demonstrations at near-by Greenbelt, Md.

Possible significance of the Presidential inspection was seen because he lately has been busy with Harry L. Hopkins on the relief program for next year. Dr. Tucker is said to aid for housing during the election campaign.

Greenbelt, the partially-finished community Mr. Roosevelt will visit tomorrow, is one of the three large suburban housing demonstrations undertaken by Tucker's organization under the present work relief program.

MRS CRAWFORD SAYS
'MOSES' IS OWN CHILD

Story of Dog Carrying Baby to Front Door Is Hoax, Wife Reveals.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 12.—(AP)—In a weird river country drama, Mrs. Louis Crawford, 24, told a tale tonight of giving birth in the woods last Sunday to a baby she first said a big brindle dog brought to her cabin.

Leaving a shack filled with her husband's relatives, Mrs. Crawford stepped into the dark to confirm a statement by Sheriff Walter Galatas, of St. Tammany parish, that she had "broken down and confessed" to Deputy Sheriff Clarence Crawford that her original story was incorrect.

As she announced she was actually the mother of the baby boy, J. Mayne Simmons, St. Tammany parish probation officer who had the child sent to a hospital here, said, "I am going to investigate to find out whether she is the mother of the child before she can have it."

Had Tot From Mate.

Leaving barefooted against a pigsty where she went so others could not hear her story, Mrs. Crawford said she had not wanted her husband to know that she was actually the mother of the child. She added, however, that he now knew the truth.

As she talked, her 44-year-old husband, a "Paw" worker, approached. "I love Effie (his wife's name)," he said succinctly.

District Attorney Sidney Frederick, of St. Tammany parish, announced he would ask the coroner to examine Mrs. Crawford tomorrow to determine if she is the mother of the baby whose age had been estimated by attendants at about eight days.

Sheriff Galatas, meanwhile, said as far as he was concerned the case was "closed and I'm not interested in learning whether the baby is Mrs. Crawford's child or not."

While newspapermen and other questioners visited the little home in the backwoods country 20 miles from here, attendants at the hospital where the child was brought after Mrs. Crawford reported its presence said it was suffering from a cold which might be "slight pneumonia."

Infant in Incubator.

They added, however, that the baby's condition was not alarming. The blond blue-eyed infant was in an incubator.

Mrs. Crawford, mother of two other children, said she crept from her husband's bed last Sunday night and went into the woods to have the child. He did not see the child until two days later when she said she told him the story of a big dog bringing it to her wrapped in swaddling cloth.

Before her statement to officers today, she begged to be permitted to keep the child and conferred with Probation Officer Simmons about "adopting" it as her own.

"There was a reason for his being sent to me and I want to keep the baby," she said.

She called the baby Moses because she said its coming was "like a miracle."

Baby Is Normal.

Hospital physicians said tonight the baby was "perfectly normal and healthy" aside from the cold condition.

The hospital was swamped with reporters, photographers, and the curious. A scramble started immediately for adoption of the child and applicants for its custody complicated the scene here.

Custody, officials said, will now await a further investigation of the case and Mrs. Crawford's motherhood claims.

Moses, meanwhile, unbothered by all the uproar, yawned, stretched, cried and ate just as any other infant.

Mrs. Crawford surrendered the child to parish authorities only after a court order was issued. "I found that baby," she was quoted as saying then. "I saved his life and I'm not going to give him up. I'll move heaven and earth to get him back."

Debutante Namesake Will Wear Great-Great-Grandmother's Locket

By Sally Forth.

THE day on which a pretty belle makes her formal bow to society is one to be forever remembered as the loveliest, most exciting day of her life. And if mother has a cherished piece of jewelry tucked away in her old-fashioned trunk, awaiting some important event, it is brought forth for daughter's debut party.

Today Mrs. Henry Davis presents her beautiful titian-haired daughter, Alice, with an exquisite pearl locket which belonged to the latter's great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Ralph Izard, formerly Miss Alice DeLancey, for whom the debutante is named. This beautiful locket opens, and contains a lock of snow white hair, that of the new owner's great-great-grandfather, Ralph Izard. On the back is inscribed the date, 1804. Now, in 1936, this antique ornament will gleam anew when Alice wears it at her debut reception this afternoon.

High above the mantle before which Alice and Mrs. Davis will stand hangs a lovely lifelike portrait of Mrs. Izard, which may come to life for a while this afternoon to smile with approval upon her great-great-grandchild standing there in an old-fashioned white satin dress with a wide hooped skirt, looking much as she herself looked when, as Alice DeLancey, she made her bow in the days of long ago.

SALLY was entering a crowded elevator in one of the city's large department stores. A soft feminine voice behind her spoke: "Wait a minute, son. Ladies always first, you know."

Sally turned to see a young mother, accompanied by her small son, who was approximately five years old, and his small sister, who was perhaps two years his senior. The little boy stepped politely aside to allow all the ladies present to enter the lift.

But when his young sister started to enter, he raised a forbidding hand in front of her in a veritable stiff-arm manner. "Wait a minute," he said in a superior tone. "You are not a lady." And he walked disdainfully into the elevator ahead of her.

ONE morning Mrs. George D. Snow gave a pile of old shoes to a poor man who came to her door, and this incident had a great bearing upon her plans next morning as she was preparing to go to a fashionable wedding. Everything was in readiness—her new fall dress, a stylish brown felt hat, and new brown accessories. Mrs. Snow was adding the last-minute touches to her hair and complexion, and as it was nearly time to leave, she hurriedly went to the closet for her shoes. Slipping one foot into a brand-new pump, she suddenly realized that the other shoe was an old one, and fitted the foot that was already shod. Immediately a frantic search for the missing shoe was begun, with the assistance of the maid, but the shoe was nowhere to be found. There was only one solution. Mrs. Snow had given the beggar of the day before one old shoe and one new one.

Eugenia, Mrs. Snow's daughter, came to the rescue with a pair of her brown shoes, and her mother set out in the borrowed pair. The only trouble was that they were a trifle too small, and arriving at the church, she was barely able to walk. Several people asked what the trouble was, and Mrs. Snow hobbled down the aisle on the arm of the usher. After this, she will be more careful in her kindnesses to those seeking old clothes.

Miss Anne Irby Is Presented
To Society at Brookhaven Club

Mrs. Alton F. Iry entertained at an exquisitely appointed luncheon yesterday at Brookhaven Country Club to present to society her attractive debutante daughter, Miss Anne Iry, the occasion also marking the birthday anniversary of the honor guest. The long tables of the dining room ballroom, was beautified with a silver urn filled with yellow chrysanthemums. Silver punch bowls placed at each end of the tables were filled with luscious purple grapes, and silver candelabra held purple tapers.

Smaller tables at which six guests were seated were decorated with pumpkins filled with yellow chrysanthemums, and the pumpkins nestled in colorful autumn leaves and pine burs. The tables were also decorated and topped with 20 yellow candles. The place before Miss Iry, to commemorate her natal day.

Tables of roses, filled with yellow and bronze chrysanthemums, smilax and formed an effective part of the decorations and cast a mellow glow over the entire ensemble. An orchestra played a musical program during the afternoon and further added to the festive occasion.

Mrs. Iry was gowned in black crepe brocaded in black satin flowers and leaves, trimmed with pearls. She wore a black velvet tam, and a cluster of purple orchids on her shoulder. Miss Iry wore a becoming costume of black tulle, a black skirt and a white satin blouse. Her hat was of black velvet, and she wore orchids on her shoulder. Miss Mary Iry wore a black velvet dress with a crown worn with a brown hat, matching accessories, and orchids.

The receiving line stood before a table of roses and red flowers in baskets, and in vases, and bouquet effect which were sent to the lovely debutante by her many admiring friends and which further attests her popularity.

Coach Alex, Sick With Flu, Turns Team Over to Assistants

BREAK O'DAY!
By Ralph Mobley

The Old Man was sniffing and taking mustard foot-baths. He looked terrible—just as anyone does who is suffering from influenza, lagrippe and a code in the node and head. (And that code in the node and head doesn't come under the NRA code. And you may lay to that.)

I am referring to Mr. William Alexander, coach of the Georgia Tech football team, who has been worrying his family and friends to death by foolishly going out to the field when he should have been in bed with a mustard plaster on his Tarzan chest and a hot water bag on his footies.

But he is one of those stubborn guys who would keep on going out, although the pneumonia germs have been playing "Knock! Knock!" on his chest. He believes in doing his job even if he is risking his health.

All of which won't help Alabama any at all. Everyone wishes him a quick relief from this influenza and lagrippe and the code in his node and head. And no one wishes it any more than Frank Thomas. In the first place he wishes it because he admires and likes William Alexander. And in the second place he knows if Coach Alexander should be too ill to appear at the game, the Tech players would be demons. In fact, Frank Thomas may hire four or five doctors and send them out to Coach Alex's home today. All of us have got to have that guy get well quick.

FEAR IN ALABAMA.

Over the wires came a knocking sound. "You aren't trying to play that knock! knock! game, are you?" I asked Frank Thomas.

"That," said Mr. Thomas, firmly, "happens to be my knees knocking together. I am scared to death about the Tech game over there on Saturday. I really am worried. I don't know what we'll be able to do."

"Both my regular guards are out. Peters was operated on last week for appendicitis. Tarzan White is out with a bad hip. Cochran, the substitute quarter, is out with a pulled tendon. None of them will play. But no one will pay any attention to our injuries. I know Tech is in good shape."

There was the sound of more knocking.

"That isn't your pair of knees making all that noise, is it?"

"No, Red Drew just came in. He saw Tech play Auburn and he says when they are good, they are really very good. He's scared, too. Those are his knees you hear now."

"Were you surprised at the Tulane score?"

"Yes, I don't know if it was that good or if we just got hot. I wish I knew. The strain grows on you when you can't figure just what you'll do. And losing those two guards is the toughest break any team has had. And it has to happen just before the Tech and Vanderbilt games."

The noise in the Alabama coaches' quarters increased. The knocking noise sounded like the castanets at a Spanish dance.

"What's the new noise?"

"Hank Crisp just came in. He's scared, too."

THE STRAIN OF WINNING.

In addition to facing a tough game with the Jackets, there is the additional strain of being undefeated. And that is no light burden for Alabama.

When a team goes this far undefeated, the strain is quite heavy indeed and becomes a veritable Old Man of the Sea about the neck of the head coach. He naturally wants to keep going.

Alabama figures to win on Saturday. But if those

BULLDOGS LEAVE FOR WAVE CLASH THIS AFTERNOON

Haygood, Barbre Are Added to Roster for New Orleans Battle.

By Felton Gordon.

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 12.—A three-hour menu of various football appetizers completed, Georgia's football squad tonight stood ready to depart after a light once-over Friday afternoon by train at 4:45 o'clock for New Orleans and the Tulane game Saturday afternoon.

The same squad with a change of which successfully invaded Florida last week end was announced for the trip. Tommy Haygood, tackle, and Ned Barbre, end, having recovered from injuries, were added. Carlisle Smith, fullback, was released to the Red Devil team as Red Holland showed signs of recuperating.

HOLD SKULL DRILL.

Starting at 8:30 o'clock the Bulldogs held a 45-minute skull session. This was followed by about 20 minutes of dummy scrimmaging in the gym. Work on pass defense and line fundamentals followed on the field. The day was completed as the varsity was tried on offense against the freshman team and did not show up to the satisfaction of coaches.

Harry Stevens, passing and punting halfback, and Forrest (Spec) Towns are definitely lost for the Tulane tilt. Coach Harry Mehre said tonight. Both are nursing hip injuries along with Bill Hartman, who is expected to be fully ready for duty.

TRAVELING SQUAD.

LOUIS, BRADDOCK MATCH IN DOUBT

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Plans to have Jimmy Braddock fight Louis in Atlantic City next February went merrily on today. Nothing was accomplished, but that didn't stop the boys from planning—and hoping.

Herman (Mugsy) Taylor, Philadelphia promoter, who has offered Braddock $400,000 to meet the bomber in a 12-round no-decision bout on Washington's birthday, predicted a crowd of 48,000 and a gate of between $700,000 and $800,000 if the fight becomes a reality.

Emerging from a huddle with Joe Gould, Braddock's manager, and Mike Jacobs, representing Louis, Taylor said Gould promised he would sign a contract the minute Taylor lays $100,000 on the line as evidence of good faith.

Taylor said he would go to Atlantic City tonight to try to raise the money. Jacobs, who controls the Louis and Max Schmeling, No. 1 challenger for Braddock's heavyweight crown, said the bomber is ready to sign as soon as Braddock's name goes on paper.

Although Braddock is under contract with Madison Square Garden to make the first defense of his title against Max Schmeling next June, Gould is willing to take a chance of the go-by in favor of John Henry Lewis. That would be a fight, wouldn't it? It wouldn't draw peanuts."

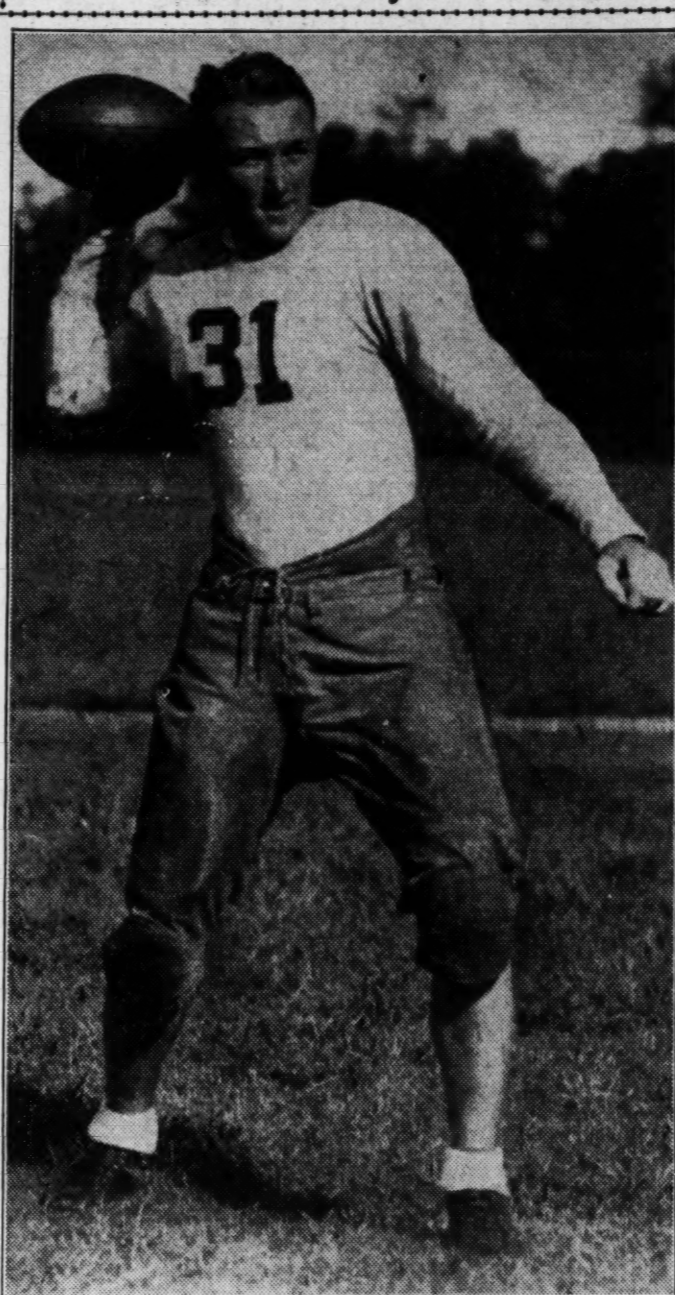

"Six weeks ago the boxing commission informed me that if Braddock would post $50,000 as a guarantee he will fight Schmeling, he could have a couple of tune-up bouts. I am banking on that promise."

The German and Braddock were matched last September, but the champion developed arthritis and was advised to take a rest.

Earlier this week Gould told the commission he would not sign to have Braddock meet anyone prior to the June fight with Schmeling without the commission's approval. Whether he will defy the fight solons if the rule against a 12-round go with Louis remains to be seen.

There may be other complications. Mike Jacobs said he wants to be cut in for 50 per cent of the profits in any Louis fight and Taylor may decide he doesn't want a partner at Atlantic City.

The Life of Riley--at 'Bama

Here's Joe Riley, the quarterback-halfback at Alabama, one of the best football players in the game. He calls the signals, runs at halfback, throws passes and does a few other odd jobs for Alabama. He will arrive with the team today and will be in the game at the Tech Flats Saturday.

Fair 'Country Line' At Tech---Tharpe

Coach of Jacket Forewall Recognizes Bama's Greatness, But Sees a Chance Saturday.

By Jack Troy.

Georgia Tech has a pretty fair "country line" in the estimation of Mack Tharpe, who coaches the Jacket forwards. "That Alabama is coming to Atlanta with one of the finest lines in the south. It is recognized as a big, powerful line. A smart, aggressive line."

"I am sure, too, that all the fine things said about the Alabama line are true. All I can say is that Tech has a pretty fair 'country line.' Tharpe did not pick Alabama to beat Tech and neither did he pick Tech to win. And yet, strangely enough, he was not altogether neutral. This much I do know. Mack Tharpe has a lot of faith in his boys on the line."

NO SHORT SELLING.

He would, under no circumstances, sell them short. Hence he did not go in for the business of conceding the opposition anything. He doesn't under-rate the Crimson Tide nor overrate the Yellow Jackets.

In so many words, he sees a chance. That much could be deduced by talking with him after yesterday's practice. That is, by doing most of the talking one's self and watching the expression on his face.

The Georgia Tech line has not been manhandled this year, even in the face of defeat. The Duke line didn't play rings around the starting forewall of Tech. There were subs in there when Duke scored two touchdowns.

REMEMBER AUBURN.

Certainly, Auburn's line didn't do anything with Tech. To the contrary. . . . And there was that scoreless tie at Vanderbilt. The Tech line was outwheeled plenty and even an inspired Vandy line found itself worn out at the end.

It's a "country line," all right, but it does right well on occasions. One is forced to join in the plaudits for a team so great as Alabama. That Alabama team played one of the finest games an Alabama team has played in the last 15 years to submerge the Tulane Greenies last Saturday. And there's the Rose Bowl ahead.

Georgia Seeks To Even Series

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 12.—A Bulldog victory at New Orleans Saturday will make the Georgia-Tulane series all square. The Bulldogs have won four games, the Greenies five. One battle was a tie.

The complete record follows:

Georgia	Year	Tulane
31	1919	7
20	1928	14

Alabama wants to get that bid. Only Tech and Vandy stand in the way. One must admire the man who sees a chance.

Loyal Duke Alumnus Not To Attend Game

LENOIR, N. C., Nov. 12.—(AP)—R. K. Courtney, loyal Duke University alumnus, has a chance to attend the Duke-Carolina football game at Chapel Hill Saturday with all expenses paid, but he's not going.

The reason: he's Duke's "All-American" jinx.

Courtney has never seen his alma mater win a football game and firmly believes his presence in the stands causes the Dukes to lose. The jinx is recognized by other Duke alumni, too. Courtney stayed away from Durham last year, when the Blue Devils upset the favored and previously undefeated Tarheels. He had planned to go, but at the last minute Durham alumni telegraphed him the following: "Please do not come to Durham tomorrow."

Thomas Fears Letdown; Tidesmen To Work Here Today.

Dodd, Tharpe in Charge as 'Old Man' Watches From Car.

By Jack Troy.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Nov. 12.—(AP) Coach Frank Thomas was all frowns today as Alabama went through its final workout before leaving for Atlanta and the Saturday game with Georgia Tech.

He cited numerous reasons for the frowns. "In the first place," he said, "we are not in good shape. Our regular guards, White and Peters, are out, and Henry Cochran won't be able to give Bradford any relief at quarterback."

"Also, we have been at our top for the last two games, and we fear a letdown, which would prove disastrous against a team of Tech's caliber. "We have not been able to prepare for this game; bad weather halted our practice sessions. We would be mighty happy to win this game by a point."

Monksy and Bostick will start at the guard posts, and Ben McLeod may open at Warren's end because of his fine showing against Tulane and in practice this week.

The team, 34 strong, will arrive in Atlanta at noon tomorrow and will take a short workout on Grant field Friday afternoon.

"KEEP ROLLING ALONG"

ST. LOUIS—Tackle Marty Rossini of St. Louis U. and "Old Man River" must have been cut from the same cloth. They "just keep rolling along." So far this season, Marty has suffered a pulled side muscle, a bad shoulder and two bruised feet. But each time he's been patched up and has played a better game the next time out. P. S.—Those feet, incidentally, are so large that Rossini refuses to tell the size of the special shoes he's forced to wear.

TAKES LONG CHANCE.

The Old Man took a chance by being there at all. He is still running a temperature. But he refuses to go to bed and desert the team entirely. Coach Alex has been running a high fever since Monday. He has been threatened with pneumonia. And, while there was some improvement noted in his condition yesterday, he remains a very sick man. He hopes to be able to rejoin the team today. If not, he plans to be with the boys on the bench Saturday.

Changing their base of operations from Grant field to the Rose Bowl—that's where Alabama is figured to play, only at Pasadena later on in the season—the Jackets ran through their paces, punted, passed and worked on conditioning.

It turned out that the weather ignored Tech and Tech ignored scrimmaging. Talking it over in the dressing room, Coaches Alexander, Tharpe and Dodd decided scrimmaging on the muddy field would do more harm than good.

They recognized the fact that Tech

is

America's Ace among TOPCOATS

for young men

More Luxura topcoats are sold in America than any other suit or topcoat in the world, with the exception of a nationally known summer suit which is also sold by Muse's in Atlanta. This acceptance by young men definitely brands Luxura as America's ace among topcoats . . . and to assure its popularity in Atlanta, where it is sold exclusively by Muse's, we are pricing it . . . in our young men's department . . . at $25 less than the amount for which it is sold in the leading stores of many other cities! The fabric is soft and silky . . . and comes in all the popular new shades.

Warren Five Meets A&P Team Saturday

Warren's basketball team, which was beaten out in the finals last year of the southern invitational tournament, will open its 1936 schedule at 8 o'clock Saturday night with the A. & P. team, of Copperhill, Tenn. The game will be played on the new Fulton High school court. Ed Copeland, former Oglethorpe University star, is manager of the team and will play one of the forward positions. Other members of the team include Virlyn Moore Jr., Johnny Phillips, Don Robertson, former Stetson University star; Billy Glenn and Culver Kidd, formerly of the Tech players; Joel Tiers, former Tech High star; Gene Warlick, Murray Witcher and Cherry Foster, former Birmingham Southern star. Warren will play as many games as possible before tournament schedules open and plans are being made to enter at least a couple of tournaments next spring. BEAR SHOT IN CITY PARK. Fred Pearson, of Marietta, recently shot a 300-pound bear on Presque Isle, the city's natural park. It was the first one seen on the island in many years.

Oze Simmons Back On Iowa Grid Squad

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Nov. 12.—(AP) Restored to grace as a member of the football squad after a short-lived walkout, Oze Simmons, University of Iowa negro halfback star, looked forward today to playing Saturday in the game against Purdue. After walking off the practice field yesterday afternoon when Coach Ossie Solem asked him to apologize for statements made in a previous row this week, Simmons announced late last night that it "was just a misunderstanding" and that he would return to the squad. Said Professor C. M. Updegraff, chairman of the athletic board: "Coach Solem, Simmons and I got together and talked it over. It was an unfortunate misunderstanding and everything is now straightened out." Early today Don Nelson and Gene Liggett, fellow players, called at Simmons' room and Nelson said, "Well Oze, we're going out there Saturday and win ourselves a ball game, aren't we?" "Yeah, we sure are," Simmons replied. HARD LUCK GUY. DURHAM, N. C.—For a "hard-luck guy," take Ace Parker, Duke's ball-carrying star. In the Colgate game he took a pass and went 26 yards for a touchdown, only to have the play called back for clipping. In the South Carolina battle, a 73-yard touchdown run was nullified by officials for the same reason. Against Wake Forest last week, he got off a 73-yard sprint over the goal line, but Duke was caught clipping again. That's 18 points off Parker's season total.

FARM-BRED AUTO ERA PICTURED BY SAVANT

Soil Will Yield Everything
From Houses to Nighties,
He Predicts.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 12.—(AP)—An era of home-grown houses, farm-bred automobiles and women's dainty clothing made from fence-corner weeds was predicted today at the National Grange's 70th birthday celebration by Carl B. Fritzsche, of Dearborn, managing director of the National Chemistry Council.

"The flapper of the future will climb out of her soy bean bed, take off her weed nightie, bathe with soap made from farm products, step into her unmentionables made from waste products, hook the vegetable buttons of her dress, drink coffee sweetened with a pine tree compound, twist a vegetable doorknob, grab the soy bean steering wheel of her roadster and rush to the office on a cotton road to thump typewriter keys made from garden products," Fritzsche said.

"These are just a few samples of the manufacturing changes which will come when industrialists are educated to the use of farm products."

Uses of Cotton.
"Furniture, stronger and more enduring than wood, will be made of farm products. Houses made from plastic materials are a thing of the future."

Cotton membrane already can be used instead of steel wire in reinforcing concrete roads, Fritzsche asserted.

"There are 500 miles of this sort of road now in 21 states. The use of this material on half the secondary roads of the country would furnish an initial outlet of 6,000,000 bales of cotton, plus 500,000 bales annually for maintenance."

"America will one day come to the developing agriculturally of the materials it needs instead of exploiting its natural resources."

Sibley Sees Prosperity.
Harper A. Sibley, Rochester, N. Y., president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, predicted that better days were coming for the farmer.

Sibley named three factors on which he based his prediction—an increasing export market, greater purchasing power and growing use of agricultural products in industry.

He favored controlled production in order that supply and demand could be kept in balance. In this way fair prices can be maintained, he said.

The speaker commended the federal administration for its soil-conservation program, declaring it "very sound." Likewise, he had a good word for the present foreign policy, which, he said, has resulted in increasing export trade.

Sibley warned against government coercion in any farm program, maintaining it should restrict itself to co-operation.

PROJECT SURVEY ENDS.
NASHVILLE, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The state planning commission made public today the results of a survey of potential public works projects in Tennessee which showed 500 possible projects costing more than $84,000,000.

Fulton's Last Frame School To Go With Job Completion This Month

Completion of the Bethlehem-Cedar Grove school building, eight miles from Fairburn, by the county and the Works Progress Administration, before December 1, will mark the passing of the last antiquated frame building from the Fulton county system, Jere Wells, superintendent, said yesterday. The county then will have 89 modern school plants—54 for white children and 35 for negroes.

The cornerstone of the new building will be laid at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon by Judge E. D. Thomas, past grand master of Georgia Masons, assisted by Campbell Lodge No. 78, F. & A. M. The ceremonies will follow a barbecue and will be attended by members of the county board of education, county commissioners and WPA officials.

The school building is the last unit in the county school improvement program carried out with WPA assistance at a cost of approximately $400,000. It comprises four classrooms and an auditorium and represents an expenditure of $25,000 of WPA and local funds. Under the WPA program 11 new modern buildings will have been added to the county school system.

The announcement was made by Mr. Wells yesterday at a luncheon in the cafeteria of the Fulton County High school in connection with dedication of the $90,000 athletic-vocational building at Pulliam street and Woodward avenue. The luncheon was attended by members of the county board, the board of education, members of the faculty of Fulton High and state and district officials of the Works Progress Administration.

Superintendent Wells presided. The speakers included Dr. C. R. Adams, chairman county commissioners; Miss Gay B. Shepperson, state WPA administrator; J. E. White, principal Fulton High school; Mrs. E. A. Rhoads, president Fulton High P. T. A.; George T. Whitman, member Fulton county board of education; Miss Sallie Shannon, assistant principal of the school; Miss Lucy Adams, physical education instructor; I. J. Durrett Jr., district WPA director; Herbert Rawlings, district WPA supervisor in charge of construction and Robert Vansart, president senior class.

Following the luncheon, Miss Shepperson presented the keys of the building to Mr. White. An inspection of the building was made, and the visitors witnessed a basketball game between teams of boys and a demonstration by a group of girls from the physical education classes.

The vocational department, in the basement of the building, has been equipped by the county with new woodworking machinery, work benches and tools. The metal working, drafting and other departments will be equipped later, Mr. Wells said.

The projects carried out by WPA and the county in the school improvement program include Alpharetta vocational school building, Sandtown school, Campbell High school addition, Russell High school vocational building, North Fulton High vocational building, Alonzo Richardson school addition, Red Oak school, Benjamin Neely school addition, Cascade school addition, Bethlehem-Cedar Grove school building, and the Fulton High school athletic and vocational building.
